FORT DOUAUMONT IN GERMAN HANDS, BERLIN REPORTS

Teutons Deny French Statement That Greater Part of Position Was Captured in Surprise Attack—Fighting Continues.

British Admit Loss of 1500 Yards of Trenches Near Vimy Ridge—Austrians Push On.

Shells and Guns Being Massed at Libau Apparently for Attack on Riga—Mackensen to Command.

BERLIN, by wireless to Sayville, May 23.—Announcement was made by the War Office today that in the fighting north of Verdun the French have taken some first line positions of the Germans, but that Fort Douaumont remains firmly in German hands.

The Austrians are successfully continuing their offensive against the Italians in the Southern Tyrol, according to the War Office announcement today. They have advanced on both sides of the Sugana Valley, driving the Italians before them and have captured the fortified position of Velna.

The statement says: "Western front: Preparations by the British to make a counter-attack southwest of Givenchy-en-Gohelle were observed. Small advances by the British in the Somme district were repulsed.

"In the Meuse district (Verdun front) the fighting was especially heavy on account of the enemy's counter attacks. West of the river the Germans captured a French block-house south of Camard forest. Hostile attacks east of Hill 304 and on the southern slope of Dead Man Hill resulted in failure.

"East of the Meuse there were violent infantry engagements on the front south of Thimont Farm, as far as the Callette Wood. The French, after a strong artillery preparation, entered the forested German positions, but were repulsed on the flank of the sector by the German counter attacks. South of the village and south of the former fort of Douaumont the engagement is not yet finished. Fort Douaumont remained firmly in German hands.

"On the heights of the Meuse south-east of Verdun, near Yverdon-Palmes and Saucy, the enemy's attacks for the most part broke down before our curtain of fire. Small detachments which entered our trenches were annihilated.

MOST OF FORTRESS REOCCUPIED, SAYS PARIS WAR OFFICE

French Reported to Have Driven Germans From Douaumont in Surprise Attack.

PARIS, May 23.—Fighting continued with extreme violence in the Meuse along the Verdun front during the whole night. Two German counter attacks on French position on Hill 304 failed completely, the War Office announced this afternoon.

The French made further gains within Fort Douaumont. The Germans now hold only a small angle on the northeastern corner of the fort.

The battle around Hill 304 was especially severe. In attacking French positions on the west side of the hill, the Germans used liquid gas, the official statement says, and penetrated one of the French trenches, but were dislodged at once. On the east side of the hill the Germans attacked after intense artillery preparation, but were not permitted to reach the French line.

Germans Regain Trench.
The principal fighting east of the Meuse was in the sector between Thimont and Douaumont. The Germans attacked in mass formation and are said to have suffered enormous losses. They succeeded in reoccupying one of the trenches north of Thimont Farm, which had been captured by the French.

Recapture after three months of the greater part of Fort Douaumont, which was taken by the Germans at the outset of their Verdun drive, is received with great elation by the French press and the public, the more so on account of the effect it is expected to have on neutral opinion. Gen. Nivelle, the French commander at Verdun, took advantage of the fact that the Germans recently have been concentrating all their attention on Dead Man Hill, on the other side of the river, and assembled a large amount of artillery for the attack on the Douaumont sector.

French Advanced Signaling.
On Sunday Gen. Nivelle began a heavy artillery attack on Fort Douaumont and adjacent positions. The hour fixed for the infantry assault was 4:30 p. m. yesterday. When the moment came French infantry which had been carefully selected and trained began the advance, singing the "Marseillaise."

The German resistance at some points was stubborn. On the Froide Terre road and at Douaumont the French had to force back the German infantry inch by inch at the point of bayonets. The leading French contingents reached

COURT MUST DECIDE WHETHER A SNAPPING TURTLE CAN BITE

Lawyers in Damage Suit Argue That, Being Toothless, It Can't; Others Maintain That It Can.

NEW ORLEANS, May 23.—The legal fraternity of New Orleans is split on the question of whether a snapping turtle can bite. Two eminent lawyers argued before Judge Fred D. King in Civil District Court today that a turtle, being toothless, can't bite. Two equally eminent lawyers, citing the case of the mosquito, said a bite is a bite whether the biter has teeth or not. Judge King is to judicially settle the case and on his decision will depend Anthony D. Miceli's chances of winning his suit for $5000 personal damages.

Miceli was walking through the commission district 10 days ago and came within striking range of a turtle that had crawled onto the sidewalk from a coop. Mr. Turtle snipped a hefty chunk from Miceli's ankle and he brought suit against the turtle's owners. The firm entered as its main defense that a turtle can't bite.

INDIA BUYS 7,500,000 PESOS FROM FILIPINO TREASURY

Twenty Per Cent Profit on Sale to Relieve Shortage of Silver in China and Hindustan.

MANILA, May 23.—Jeremiah H. Manning, Insular Treasurer, returned today from China, where he concluded negotiations for the sale to the Indian Government of 7,500,000 silver pesos at a profit to the Insular Government of 20 per cent. The bullion will be shipped immediately. British officials taking over the coin at Manila.

Mr. Manning went to China on May 13 with a commission to sell 20,000,000 silver pesos which the Philippine Government had stored at Corregidor. There has been a great shortage of silver in China and India, which caused the metal to be held at a premium.

SUBMARINE TAKES CAPTAIN PRISONER AND SINKS HIS SHIP

Germans Say Languedoc Commander Tried to Defeat Yessel From Attack in Mediterranean.

MARSEILLE, France, May 23.—Information received here today concerning the loss of the French steamship Languedoc, 1612 tons gross and owned in Marseilles, shows that she was sunk in the Mediterranean, on Saturday, by a submarine.

Capt. Pierre Battisti was taken a prisoner on board the submarine, on the ground that he attempted to defend his ship. The Languedoc was sunk by shell fire from the submarine, which killed one member of the crew and wounded two others seriously and 10 slightly.

SAYS WAITE USED CHLOROFORM TO HASTEN PECK'S END

Prosecutor Declares Dentist Held Drug to Nostribs of Dying Millionaire Father-in-Law.

DOCTOR ON THE STAND

Swears Accused Admitted Buying Arsenic "Because Old Gentleman Didn't Want to Live."

NEW YORK, May 23.—The State continued to pile up medical testimony today as the foundation of its case against Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, the dentist, charged with murdering his father-in-law, John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, Mich. Peck was reputed to be a millionaire and the theory of the prosecution is that the defendant committed the murder so that he might fail heir to the Peck fortune.

Dr. Victor C. Vaughn, dean of the medical department of the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, was the first witness called today. Dr. Vaughn, who made an analysis of the organs of Peck, described in minute detail the effects of the arsenic poisoning.

Dr. Albertus A. Moore, physician who attended Peck before his death at the Waite's apartment in New York, had not finished his testimony under cross-examination when the first session of the trial adjourned yesterday. Upon direct examination he declared that Dr. Waite admitted he had purchased arsenic for his aged father-in-law. The reason, he gave, according to the witnesses, was "the old gentleman did not want to live."

Prisoner Bows His Head.
Waite sat with bowed head while Dr. Vaughn was testifying. His pale face betrayed his nervous tension when glass jars containing the organs of Peck's body were produced.

Dr. Vaughn swore he found two and a half grains of arsenic in Peck's stomach and amounts of it too small to weigh in other organs.

Dr. Otto H. Schultze, medical examiner for the District Attorney of New York, next testified concerning his visit to Grand Rapids to investigate Peck's death.

Dr. Stanley R. Benedict, professor of chemistry at the Cornell Medical School, who was next called, corroborated the testimony of Dr. Vaughn as to the presence of arsenic in the body.

Dr. Benedict added that in examining a part of Peck's brain he found an unmistakable trace of chloroform. He examined the embalming fluid used, but found no trace of chloroform or arsenic in it.

Said to Have Used Chloroform.
In his opening address District Attorney Swann declared that Waite hastened Peck's last moments by applying to his nostrils a handkerchief soaked with chloroform.

Other medical witnesses summoned by the prosecution today were Dr. Percy S. Church of Grand Rapids, the Peck family physician; Dr. Ott Schultze, County Medical Examiner, who was sent to Grand Rapids to investigate the case, and Dr. Victor Vaughn, pathologist, of the University of Michigan.

The defense has announced that it will call one or more alienists and indications are that Waite's attorneys will try to prove that when he committed the crime to which he has several times confessed, he was insane.

Nebrasks to Vote on Prohibition.
LINCOLN, Neb., May 23.—A petition for the submission of the prohibitory amendment to the State Constitution, to be voted on at the November election, was filed yesterday with the Secretary of State. It contains 57,000 signatures, nearly double the number necessary.

Miss Jessie Moller, president of the Town Club, a woman's organization, before which Mrs. Sanger will speak at 8:30 this evening at a dinner at the American Annex, said that the Town Club was not sponsoring any public meeting. She said that Mrs. Sanger was an open forum, she said, and is willing to listen to any propaganda, without committing itself to any of the theories advanced by speakers.

An injunction was sought yesterday afternoon by Attorney E. M. Gorman to restrain the German Theater Relief Co., owners of the Victoria, from interfering with the meeting by withholding the use of the building. Judge Shields declined to issue a temporary order, suggesting that relief would better be sought in a suit for damages. Friends of Mrs. Sanger advised her last night to bring such a suit.

About 1500 persons gathered about the Victoria Theater at 8 o'clock last evening, although the management of the theater had announced early in the day that Mrs. Sanger's date had been cancelled. Oscar Leonard, secretary of the Jewish Educational Alliance, announced Mrs. Sanger would speak in the street.

Crowd Greets Mrs. Sanger.
Mrs. Sanger arrived shortly after 8 o'clock, accompanied by Miss Clara Taylor, a nurse; Mrs. Oscar Leonard, Dr. L. C. Caplan and Frank P. O'Hare, a Boston editor. Many persons shook hands with Mrs. Sanger. O'Hare, speaking from an automobile, said that Mrs. Sanger had been invited to St. Louis by a committee of nurses, physicians and professional men for the purpose of arousing thoughtful people to the necessity of birth control.

Police Sergeant Silverman interrupted O'Hare and told him that as the street was being blocked he could speak but two minutes longer. O'Hare then asked how long Mrs. Sanger might talk and the sergeant replied "Not at all."

O'Hare then announced that Mrs. Sanger would speak some other evening in a hall, if one could be secured, and the audience dispersed after hissing the police.

CITY CLUB ASKED TO FORBID SPEECH ON BIRTH CONTROL

Officials Decline to Bar Mrs. Sanger, on Ground That It Conducts Open Forum.

USE OF THEATER REFUSED

Sympathetic Crowd Assembles in Front of Victoria; Street Address Prevented.

It was learned today by a Post-Dispatch reporter that E. V. P. Schneiderhahn, an attorney, with offices in the International Life Building, who is chairman of the Committee on Public Morals and Relations of the Federation of Catholic Societies, organized the opposition to Mrs. Margaret Sanger, advocate of birth control, which resulted in her being barred from use of the Victoria Theater last night.

Schneiderhahn stated to the reporter that the same protest which led to the cancellation of the Victoria Theater date was made to the management of the City Club, where Mrs. Sanger was scheduled to speak at today's luncheon. The protest was of no avail, as she was permitted to make her speech. There was a large audience present.

The method he followed, Schneiderhahn said, in preventing the Victoria Theater meeting, was to call up some of his friends and have them set after the management of the theater with whom Mrs. Sanger had contracted for the use of the building. He told them, he said, that the contract was not enforceable because it had evidently been obtained by false pretenses and because the use, according to the witnesses, was to which it was to be put was immoral.

He said that Fred A. Collier, State president of the Catholic Knights of America, and Henry Siemer, national secretary of the same organization, and a number of priests had taken part in the protest.

The representation made to the Victoria management, he said, was that if Mrs. Sanger was permitted to use the theater the management need not expect Catholic organizations and institutions to visit it in the future.

"So far as the City Club is concerned," Schneiderhahn said, "it would be a matter of surprise and disgust to the Catholic population if the club gave its respectable name to a disreputable doctrine. This is not my personal opinion only but the opinion of the Catholic people. I am not a member of the club, but that is what our people say."

Schneiderhahn said that at a meeting Sunday of the Executive Council of the Catholic Knights of America, representing upwards of 40 branches in the city, a resolution was unanimously adopted supporting the position of the Committee on Public Morals and Relations on the Sanger tour.

"In the discussion," he said, "it was made plain that any hall, theater or society that offers accommodations to Mrs. Sanger cannot reasonably expect the support of the Catholic population."

Secretary Gustavus Tuckerman said in making arrests, but was not tested, but there would be no change in the arrangements, because the club gave a hearing to advocates of all sorts of things, but did not, by so doing, commit itself to an endorsement of the views of any.

German Chancellor Who Says "See Map of Europe Today for Our Peace Terms"

"ONLY when statements of the warring nations come down to a basis of real facts, when they take the war situation as every map shows it to be, when, with honest and sincere will they are prepared to terminate this terrible bloodshed and are ready to discuss the war and peace problems with one another in a practical manner, only then will we be bearing peace. Whoever is not prepared to do that has the responsibility for it if Europe continues to bleed and tear itself to pieces. I cast that responsibility far from myself."

TWO OFFICIALS ARE INDICTED IN WIRE TAPPING CASE

Brooklyn Charities Commissioner and the Department's Counsel Named in Bill.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The first indictments resulting from the tapping of telephone wires in this city by the police to obtain helpful information were returned by the Kings County (Brooklyn) grand jury today. John A. Kingsbury, City Commissioner of Charities, and William H. Hotchkiss, special counsel for the charities department, were the men indicted.

The indictments are in connection with the Brooklyn branch of wire tapping inquiry, and are not related to the tapping of wires in the law office of Seymour and Seymour.

22 AUTOISTS ARE ARRESTED FOR VIOLATION OF LIGHT LAW

Beams Must Not Be Raised More Than Three Feet Above Pavement

The ordinance requiring that the beam of automobile headlights shall not be raised to more than three feet above the street level at a distance of 75 feet ahead of the lamps was given particular attention by the police last night. Complaint had been made to headquarters that the law, which was rigidly enforced some time back, was being generally ignored, and Captains of the West End districts were ordered to make arrests.

Patrolmen were stationed at two main points of automobile traffic—Leffingwell avenue and Locust street and Grand avenue and Lindell boulevard and 22 autoists were arrested.

The police relied upon their own vision in making arrests, but at the station in cases where there was a dispute they verified their suspicion with a testing board.

The cases against 12 of the autoists were dismissed by Judge Hogan upon recommendation of Assistant Associate City Counselor Sadler. Eight were fined $5 and costs, but the fine stayed upon the payment of $5 costs. One man who did not appear in court was fined $5 and costs by default.

GERMANY WILL TALK PEACE ONLY ON BASIS OF WHAT MAP SHOWS

Von Bethmann-Hollweg

Chancellor Tells the Post-Dispatch Enemy Statesmen Must "Come Down to Real Facts."

'GREATER MILITARISM IN ENGLAND THAN GERMANY'

Reviews War, Says "Earnest Word to Russia"

Would Have Prevented It and Declares End Is Brought No Nearer by British Declamations of Superiority.

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World. (Copyright, 1916, by Press Pub. Co.)

BERLIN, May 23.—Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, Imperial Chancellor of Germany, received me yesterday in his office and commented at length on the utterances of Sir Edward Grey, British Foreign Secretary, in a recent interview.

The Chancellor, after reviewing what he considered to be the causes of the war, discussed peace possibilities from the German standpoint. He declared that statesmen of warring nations must come down to a basis of real facts and take the war situation as every map showed it to be, showing a willingness to discuss the war and peace problems with each other in a practical manner, before any progress toward peace would be made.

"I have twice publicly stated," the Chancellor said "that Germany has been and is prepared to discuss the termination of the war upon a basis that offers guaranty against further attack from a coalition of enemies, and insures peace to Europe. You have read President Poincare's answer to that."

The Chancellor said he was gratified that the crisis with America was ended and expressed the hope that none again would arise.

The pilot of Germany's ship of state impresses one as a man who is habitually in deep reflection. His manner and speech are not impulsive, but deliberate and careful. At that he can be aroused, and then he speaks with great fluency and spontaneity. He weighs his words, and for that reason his public utterances are full of meaning. He is anything but voluble. His manner is warm and cordial. He is an earnest man.

Bitterly Criticizes England.
"After 22 months of terrible work," he said, "after the sacrifices of millions of men, dead, wounded and disabled for life, after forcing a heavy debt in blood and treasure that places a mortgage upon the brow and shoulders of the present and future generations, it is beginning to dawn upon England that the German people are not to be crushed, that the German nation cannot be destroyed."

Having learned that at so terrible cost to Europe and the world, Sir Edward Grey now declares that British statesmen never did want to crush and destroy Germany, notwithstanding the utterances of his conferees in the Peace Conference, he said that the German people are not to be crushed, that the German nation cannot be destroyed.

"When I shot him," Drugel told the Coroner, "I decided to kill my wife, for the husband, who was 28, and told her she ought to be careful and avoid scandal."

Found Pair in Woods.
Yesterday morning he went home for some tools he had forgotten, and found his wife absent. He waited half an hour and then took a revolver and went into some woods near by to look for her. He surprised her and Todor there together.

When Todor saw him, he testified at the inquest, he sprang at the husband with a dagger. Todor knocked the weapon from his hand. As Todor stooped to pick up a rock, Drugel shot him in the head.

"When I shot him," Drugel told the Coroner, "I decided to kill my wife, for the husband, who was 28, and told her she ought to be careful and avoid scandal."

Telephoned to Police.
The husband walked to a store some distance away, telephoned to the authorities that he had shot a man and advised them to send a doctor. A physician went from Florissant and Sheriff Bode and Coroner Bopp went from Clayton.

The shooting was about 10:30 a. m. and Drugel, unconscious, lay on the grass under a tree until 3, when he died without having regained consciousness. The doctor was with him for a long time but could do nothing to relieve him.

Mrs. Drugel wept at the inquest. She told of frequent meetings with Todor when her husband was absent. She said she was sorry and would be willing to go home to her children if her husband would let her. When the husband had been released, the two went home together.

Germans Bet Heavily on Races.
BERLIN, May 23.—The total sum wagered in the pari mutuels during Sunday's racing on the Grunewald course exceeded 1,600,000 marks ($24,000) for the first time since the course was opened in 1903. No race of the first importance was on the program.

"As to 'militarism,' let us see. Who was it that made and followed the policy of militarism in the last 20 years, England or Germany?"

"Just think back of Egypt. Recall Fashoda. Ask the French people which was the more magnificent and heroic unity of the English or the German people in defense of their home and Fatherland had opened the eyes of the gentlemen."

"As to 'militarism,' let us see. Who was it that made and followed the policy of militarism in the last 20 years, England or Germany?"

Speaker such a neutrality agreement." "I made public in the Reichstag Aug. 19, 1915, the exact text of the formula suggested to the English Cabinet in the negotiations at that time," answered von Bethmann-Hollweg. "The last formula reads: 'England will maintain this friendly neutrality should a war be forced upon Germany.' Mind you, 'forced,' declared the Chancellor with the utmost emphasis upon that word. "I dislike to come back to all these things which have been thoroughly discussed publicly before the entire world," he continued, "but since you interrogate me as to Sir Edward Grey's remarks, I am compelled to establish that they are not in accordance with the facts. "Let me make one more and a last remark about the past. Again and again, Sir Edward Grey renews his assertion that Germany could have averted this war had it accepted England's proposal in the face of the mobilization measures of Russia's vast army in full headway," said the Chancellor.

Russia Mobilizing to July. "Despite Russia's official denial, notwithstanding the fact that the formal mobilization orders were not issued until the night of July 30, it was definitely known to us, and has since been confirmed, that the Russians on July 25 began mobilizing, in accord with a decision arrived at when Sir Edward Grey's proposal was made.

"Assuming that I had accepted this proposal and, after negotiations of two or three weeks—during which Russia steadily and rapidly continued to assemble her armies, vastly superior numerically, on our borders—the conference had failed, would England, perhaps, have saved us from a Russian invasion or come to our assistance with her fleet and army? In view of the subsequent events I doubt that very much.

"With two frontiers to defend, Germany could not engage in debates the outcome of which was extremely problematical, while possible for a war utilizing the time to mobilize armies with which to invade us.

"In the critical days of July, 1914, Sir Edward Grey himself suggested by my counter proposal of a direct exchange of views between the cabinets of St. Petersburg and Vienna was better calculated to adjust the Austrian-Serbian conflict than his conference proposal. Direct exchange of views suggested by me after no small difficulties had been overcome, were in a fair way of being carried out when Russia's formal mobilization of her entire army, notwithstanding her explicit assurances to the contrary, made war unavoidable.

"Had England spoken an earnest word at St. Petersburg at that juncture the war would have been averted. From a confidential report of the Belgian Minister in St. Petersburg the world knows that the Russian war party obtained the 'war' from the moment it knew it could count upon English help in the war.

England in War "for Own Sake." "Why let England declare in this manner? Let me recapitulate briefly what English statesmen have said on this point. On Aug. 3, 1914, Sir Edward Grey declared that England would not be hardly less if it participated in the war than if it kept out. At the same time he dwelt upon the great and vital interests England had in Belgium. Therefore, not for the sake of Belgium, but for the sake of England, Sir Edward Grey considered it advisable that England should enter the war.

"Three days later Premier Asquith declared that England's reasons for going to war were two: First, to fulfill a solemn international obligation, and second, to vindicate the principle that small nations should not be crushed.

"That same Mr. Asquith declared in a recent speech that England and France had to take part in the war to prevent Germany from obtaining a dominating position. "It is not the very pinnacle of the militarist to participate in the war against another nation with a matter of fact—cause for conflict—rather than merely that it shall not become too strong."

"Yes, but Belgium"—I was about to interpose.

"Yes, Belgium!" broke in the Chancellor. "England has understood it and in amazing manner has been guided by the world that it had drawn the sword for protection of Belgium, and for Belgium's sake it would have to prolong the war indefinitely.

England's Stand on Belgium in 1887. "And do you know how Belgium neutrality was regarded in England some years ago and what was the result?" "I thought about it?" Feb. 4, 1887, the London Standard, the official organ of the conservative Government at that time, declared that if Germany, in case of war, should lay claim to a right of way through Belgium—that is, to a right to march through that country—this would in no manner affect England's honor or injure British interests, so long as the integrity and independence of Belgium did not come into question.

"Not an English newspaper lifted a voice against this viewpoint. The Liberal Pall Mall Gazette even took this standpoint for its own.

"How was it then, just before the outbreak of this war? Expressly and implicitly I offered to England the fullest guarantee for the integrity and independence of Belgium. England, however, this time rejected this offer as an infamous proposal."

"It was simply this: In 1887 France was considered as England's rival; in 1914 it was Germany. Therefore, it was England's interests that turned the scales for war.

"Sir Edward Grey wants permanent peace," continued the Chancellor. "I, too, want permanent peace. I have repeatedly expressed myself in that sense since the beginning of the war. But I fear we will not come nearer to the peace desired, I believe, by all peoples, so long as the responsible statesmen of the entente Powers indulge in and confine themselves to observations about Prussian militarism and to pathetic declamations about their own superiority and perfection, or, even as Sir Edward Grey did in his interview, desire to favor Germany with a change in her internal political affairs and condition.

Replies to Sir Edward. "In answer to the English Minister—who, I should think, would be rather reserved and careful on that point in view of conditions—replied—I only want to say that Germany has some rule over which it independently disposes.

"Incidentally, let me add one thing. Did the democratic constitution of England hinder English statesmen from making and concluding secret arrangements and agreements with Russia and

FIRST FREE MILK AND ICE FUND BENEFIT ON SATURDAY

Dance Performance to Be Given by 25 People of Miss Cecile Lowenstein.

The first benefit performance for the Post-Dispatch Free Milk and Free Ice Fund, season of 1916, and which promises to be among the most productive of pleasure and material return, will take place Saturday afternoon and evening in the New Grand Central Theater, Grand and Lucas avenues. It is to be a dance pantomime by 25 pupils of Miss Cecile Lowenstein, whose age range from 5 to 14 years, but whose proficiency in dancing and pantomime is of mature degree.

The entertainment is built upon "In Toyland" framework, about which the director of the performance, with an enthusiastic and skilled little army, has constructed a smoothly-moving variegated and captivating dance pantomime program.

France, which were one of the essential causes of this war?

"But, as I have already said to you, a general press polemic and public speeches will only tend still more to intensify that hatred among peoples. And that is not a way that leads to the ideal conditions of Sir Edward Grey, when free peoples and nations, with equal rights and privileges, will limit their armaments and solve their differences and disputes through arbitration decisions, instead of war.

"I have twice publicly stated that Germany has been and is prepared to be a general press polemic and public speeches will only tend still more to intensify that hatred among peoples. And that is not a way that leads to the ideal conditions of Sir Edward Grey, when free peoples and nations, with equal rights and privileges, will limit their armaments and solve their differences and disputes through arbitration decisions, instead of war.

"How Nations May Near Peace. "I do not know that," replied the Chancellor. "Only Sir Edward Grey himself can be the judge of that. On thing I do know," continued the Chancellor. "Only when statesmen of the warring nations come down to a basis of real facts, when they take the war situation as every map shows it to be, when they honor and sincerely will they are prepared to terminate this terrible bloodshed and are ready to discuss the war and peace problems with one another in a practical manner, only then will we be nearing peace.

Pope and King Alfonso Said to Be Discussed Peace.

AMSTERDAM, via London, May 23.—The Munich Neueste Nachrichten publishes a wireless dispatch from Madrid which says that negotiations are in progress there "between the Pope and King Alfonso and the Pope and President Wilson for the purpose of arranging an armistice among the belligerent nations, with the object of discussing peace terms."

British Admits Loss of Trenches Near Givenchy

Fort Douaumont at 5 o'clock. They killed the Germans who resisted and sent to the rear a large number of prisoners.

As soon as they recovered from their surprise the Germans launched a number of fierce counter attacks, but all failed, and by 10 p. m. preparations had been completed to deal with the serious efforts the Germans are expected to make to recapture the lost positions.

LONDON ADMITS GERMAN ADVANCE NEAR GIVENCHY

LONDON, May 23.—Heavy losses in men were suffered by the British when the Germans took trenches from them over a front of about a mile and a quarter near Givenchy-en-Goele and in counter attacks to regain them, according to reports received by Lloyd's.

The British official statement on the campaign in the Western zone reads: "After a heavy bombardment all yesterday (Sunday), becoming most intense in the afternoon, the enemy attacked our position on the north end of Vimy Ridge and succeeded in penetrating our front line of trenches on a front of about 1500 yards. The depth of penetration varies from 100 to 300 yards. "Today our artillery subjected the German positions to a heavy bombardment. On the remainder of the front we sprang mines near Rocqucourt, the Hohensollern redoubt and the quarries. There was mining activity also near

BANKERS ARE TOLD WHY U. S. NEEDS A MERCHANT MARINE

John Barrett Declares Commerce With Latin America Could Be Doubled.

1000 AT CONVENTION

W. C. Gordon, State President, Thinks Country Is Entering Era of Prosperity.

John Barrett, director-general of the Pan-American Union, addressed the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Missouri Bankers' Association at the Garfield theater, Monday evening, May 22, at 8 o'clock. He spoke on "The New Pan-Americanism and the Central West," and told of things which, in his opinion, the Government and business interests must do to obtain for the United States its proper share of the trade of South and Central America.

First in importance, he placed a merchant marine. Without a large fleet of merchant vessels flying the American flag, he said, it will be impossible for the United States to compete successfully for trade.

"It is just as illogical," Barrett declared, for the United States to depend upon the vessels of other countries to conduct its foreign trade as it is for a great department store to depend upon the delivery automobiles of a rival store to carry to its patrons the articles which they have purchased, and yet at the outbreak of the European war over 90 per cent of the shipments of the United States to foreign lands were carried in vessels flying the flags of the nations which are now at war. The United States, during the first year of the European war, from lack of ships, lost over $200,000,000 in the trade with Latin America, and would at this moment be unable to most double its present commerce if it had adequate steamship facilities.

"The next and second important step to be taken is the establishment of banks controlled by United States capital throughout Latin America for only in this way can the problems of exchange and of credits be solved to the advantage of this country. Already the National City Bank of New York City has led the way for Eastern banks. Now the financial interests of the Central West, headed by the banks of Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and other commercial and financial centers, should take immediate steps to establish banks in the principal commercial centers of Latin America controlled by the capital of this section. Every such bank will be a direct agency for the export and import trade of the Central West.

"The third need of the day is the investment of United States capital in the public lands and the enterprises of Latin America. Heretofore, our sister republics have obtained their borrowed money from Europe. That supply is now cut off. Unless the United States steps into the breach, the great material development of these Southern nations will be seriously retarded. Every dollar that the United States may put into Latin America will bring back a dollar of added trade. If this country will invest $500,000,000 in Latin America during the next five years, it will witness an increase of $500,000,000 in the value of its exports and imports exchanged."

Other necessities, he said, were (4) legislation by Congress which will permit exporting firms to organize and agree on prices to be charged for their goods in foreign markets; (5) education of young business men in the use of Latin-American languages; (6) improvement of the lands where such languages are spoken; and (7) improvement in packing and advertising methods, trade mark and copyright agreements.

More than 1000 delegates are attending the convention, which will close with a theater party tomorrow night. William E. Knox, comptroller of the Bowery Savings Bank, New York, spoke on "Thrifty and Preparedness." He said the savings bank was one of the greatest agencies in making immigrants into American citizens.

Foreign Capital to Be Scarce. He said that, after the end of the war, European labor will be cheap, and American manufacturers, to compete in foreign markets with European manufacturers, may have to lower the wages paid to labor here. Foreign capital will not be available for American enterprises, as before the war.

Foreign nations, he added, will be burdened with debt after the war, and the masses will be able to spend money only for necessities. This, he said, calls for economic preparedness, and he advocated co-operation of labor with capital. The prosperity of the railroad is linked with that of the nation, he said, and they should not be "hampered by irritating legislation."

Thomas C. Middleton of Unionville, Mo., spoke on "American Idealism and American Business." W. C. Gordon of Marshall, president of the State organization, delivered the opening address, and spoke in favor of a new State constitution, a Federal Tariff Commission, and a thrift campaign. He said American citizens should uphold President Wilson and should withhold criticism until events have tested the results of his policy.

Gordon said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that bankers look forward to an era of great prosperity, because of the country's prospective financial position at the end of the war.

"Of course, there is always danger of overoptimism," he explained. "But I do not think that we will suffer from such when the war ends."

Gordon said that he favored adequate preparedness and thought that the majority of the bankers present realized the necessity of the country being in a position to maintain its rights and its dignity.

Headquarters and registration offices of the association are at the Planters Hotel.

ELMORE BOSTWICK RECEIVES CROSS OF WAR FOR BRAVERY

Decorations Given to St. Louisian in Highest Service Award Given to French Soldiers.

Elmore M. Bostwick, 24 years old, son of Librarian and Mrs. Arthur E. Bostwick of 70 Vandeventer place, a with the French Army, has been decorated with the French army, has been decorated with the cross de guerre, or cross of war, the highest service decoration given to French soldiers, according to a letter received today by his mother.

The letter came from the mother of young Bostwick's chum, George E. Houpt of Buffalo, who has been with him near the front in the Verdun region. Mrs. Houpt said her son and Bostwick, and other members of the corps, had received the decorations individually, and that George, the French commander at Verdun, wrote a letter commending this corps particularly for its bravery and its untiring work.

During the most severe fighting at Verdun, the members of the ambulance corps were on duty 19 hours a day, and worked under continuous shell fire. A part of their work was done within four miles of Dead Man's Hill. They carried more than 14,000 French wounded to the rear, according to Houpt's letter to his mother. The Harjes corps was organized by the Paris representative of J. P. Morgan & Co.

KITCHIN SAYS NAVAL BILL WILL PASS BY WEEK FROM SATURDAY

Announces That Longer Day Sessions and Three Hours a Night Will Be Devoted to It.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The naval appropriation bill will pass the House not later than a week from Saturday, Majority Leader Kitchin said today. Longer day sessions and three hours every night next week will be devoted to its consideration, he said.

Representative Mann, minority leader, attacked the plan as a political trick to force measures through hurriedly on the eve of the Republican national convention. Kitchin said a special rule would be brought in to take up the bill Tuesday at the latest.

Representative Butler of Pennsylvania, ranking Republican on the Naval Committee, said the bill was the understanding of many Republicans that the bill was to be considered until after the convention and they had made plans accordingly. He warned the Democrats he would insist on the maintenance of a quorum all the time, and said that two days of session was not enough time for a $200,000,000 bill.

JURY IN ORPET CASE LIKELY TO BE COMPLETED LATE TODAY

More Rapid Progress Made in Selection of Men to Try Waukegan, Ill., Murder Case.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., May 23.—Judge Charles H. Donnelly, sitting in the case of Will Orpet, University of Wisconsin student, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, Lake Forest High School girl, predicted that the jury in the case would be completed before adjournment today. The entire first week of the trial resulted in the selection of four men. Progress was more rapid yesterday, two men being tentatively accepted by both sides and two more passed by the defense, making eight in all.

It was rumored yesterday that the bottle alleged by the State to be the container in which Orpet carried poison to Celestia Youker, the girl to whom Orpet was said to have been attentive, yesterday asserted her belief in his innocence. ## 50 DAYS OF WAR COST ENGLAND $1,205,000,000

Asquith Gives Figures of Greatest Expenditure Between April 1 and May 20.

PRESENTS NEW BUDGET

Premier Wants $1,500,000,000 to Carry Expenses to First Week in August.

LONDON, May 23.—In moving the vote of credit for $200,000,000 ($1,500,000,000) as has been forecast, in the House of Commons today, Premier Asquith commented that this was the eleventh vote since the beginning of the war and the second for the current financial year. The total granted this year, he added, was $900,000,000 ($5,000,000,000), making a grand total of $2,382,000,000 ($15,000,000,000).

In proposing the vote of credit, Premier Asquith laid before the House of Commons an account in some detail of the Government's recent financial operations. He took up the period between April 1 and May 20, saying the actual outlay during those 50 days was $241,000,000.

Expenditures for the army, navy and for munitions in that time accounted for $149,000,000, loans to allies and dominions for $74,000,000, and outlay for food supplies, railways and miscellaneous items, $178,000,000.

Army Expenses Less. The daily average expenditure of the Bank of England has been reduced to $4,000,000. There had been no increase, but a slight decrease in expenditures for the fighting forces. The total outlay was somewhat larger, mainly on account of loans to allies and dominions.

"The average expenditure for the army, the navy and for munitions," Mr. Asquith continued, "was just $3,000,000 daily." Speaking of loans to allies, he said: "Without that financial assistance it is literally true that the combined operations of the allies could not be prosecuted with success and efficiency. The House would not grudge an addition to the expenditures in order that the whole financial, naval and military fabric, upon whose co-operative work the success of our joint efforts depends, should be kept in a state of efficiency."

No Reduction in Sight. The Premier held out no hope of any appreciable reduction in expenditures. Estimating that the $200,000,000 added would last until the middle of the first week in August, the Premier said he moved this vote with the same confidence as he felt in moving the first vote, but at this stage, he would deal only with the financial position.

The Premier said that expenditure of $241,000,000 between April 1 and May 20— a daily average of $4,820,000—was the highest rate reached by Great Britain in any such period during the war.

GILMORE, BERSCH, IMEL WANT VENUE CHANGE IN ARSON CASE

Say They Cannot Get a Fair Trial Because of Prejudice Against Them in St. Louis.

H. G. Gilmore, Julius R. Bersch and H. C. Imel, under indictment for arson in connection with the destruction by fire of the Gilmore-Bond Decorative plant, 448 Olive street, last July, after motion before Judge Kimmel today for a change of venue. It is alleged in the petition signed by Alex F. Kessler and Harry S. Clymer that the defendants cannot get a fair trial here because of prejudice.

Circuit Attorney Harvey said that he will oppose the application when it comes up for hearing tomorrow. He said a change of venue would mean a heavy expense to taxpayers here and that he believed a fair trial could be secured in the city.

SECRETARY OF THE AMERICAN EMBASSY AT BERLIN IN U. S.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Joseph C. Grew, secretary of the American embassy at Berlin, was a passenger on the Danish steamer "Hermes," which arrived at Quarantine last night from Copenhagen and Christiania. Grew refused to discuss his mission to this country, which dispatches from Europe have intimated was in connection with a move for peace, and that he bore diplomatic documents, including a note from Emperor William to President Wilson.

Grew who, it was said before he sailed, was returning home on private business, said he would go immediately to Boston.

F. N. JUDSON A DELEGATE TO LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE

Governor Appoints St. Louis Lawyer to Represent Missouri in Washington Meeting.

Frederick N. Judson, of the law firm of Judson, Green & Henry, received a letter today from Gov. Major, notifying him of his appointment as a delegate to represent Missouri in the first assembly of the League to Enforce Peace, which will open Friday morning in the New Willard Hotel, Washington. Judson and Edward Hiden of St. Louis attended the preliminary meeting held last summer in Philadelphia, at which plans for the formation of the league were considered, and Judson, at that time, became chairman of the movement in Missouri.

Former President Taft is to preside at the two days' assembly of the league, and President Wilson has consented to make one of the principal addresses. Inasmuch as the President has declined the invitations of certain peace bodies for public addresses, his utterance before the league will be received with particular interest. The league's aim is not to take any step toward ending the present war, but to bring about international action which shall prevent future wars.

Other speakers will be Secretary of War Baker, Cardinal Gibbons, President Lowell of Harvard, President Wheeler of the University of California, President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, Edward A. Filene of Boston, Oscar S. Sauts of New York, Talbot Williams, director of the Columbia University School of Journalism at the Pulitzer Foundation, and Shailer Mathews of Chicago, president of the Federal Council of Churches.

MUNICIPAL DENTAL CLINIC IN ST. LOUIS IS ADVOCATED

Director of Hygiene for Schools Points Out That 50 Pupils Each Week Visit St. Louis U. Clinic.

A municipal dental clinic was advocated today by Dr. James Stewart, head of the department of hygiene of the Board of Education, following the receipt of a report which showed that 1858 visits were made to the St. Louis University Dental College clinic from Oct. 12 to date by public school pupils whose parents were unable to pay for dental services.

The report from the dental college shows that an average of 50 pupils visited the clinic each week, and that 600 teeth were filled without charge. Dr. James P. Harper, dean of the dental college, is also president of the Board of Education.

The report, Dr. Stewart told a Post-Dispatch reporter, shows the need in St. Louis of a municipal dental clinic to handle cases of bad teeth for persons who cannot afford to pay a dentist.

"A decayed tooth is the gateway for almost any sort of disease," Dr. Stewart pointed out. "A large percentage of the poorer classes, who find themselves sent to hospitals with diseases of various kinds, have become infected through bad teeth."

ONLY $47 FOR BLIND FUND

Appeal for $12,500 Brings Small Response.

The Missouri Commission of the Blind yesterday announced that only $47 had been subscribed toward the fund being raised to provide adult blind persons with the means of making a livelihood. The last Legislature, in creating the commission, appropriated $12,500 on condition that the public give a like sum. Advertisements calling for subscriptions were published in 20 of the leading daily papers in the State last week.

Hughes Leads in Vermont. MONTEPELIER, Vt., May 23.—Official returns on the result of the presidential preference primary May 15 show that Justice Hughes led the Republican ticket with 5480 votes. ## REPUBLICAN STATE DELEGATES ELECT STIFEL CHAIRMAN

Berryman Henwood Withdraws and Hadley Gets Only 7 of 28 Votes.

MORSE IS ASSAILED

T. R. Marks Declares Former Governor Cannot Be Deprived of Honors at Chicago.

Otto F. Stifel, St. Louis brewer and baseball magnate, was chosen at the Marquette Hotel today as chairman of the Missouri delegation to the national Republican convention, which will open in Chicago, June 7.

Of the 26 accredited convention delegates, 23 voted. The count showed 21 for Stifel and seven for former Gov. Hadley.

Stifel came in at the eleventh hour as a dark horse. E. L. Morse of Excelsior Springs, leader of the opposition to Hadley, had given the impression before the meeting that he favored the election of Berryman Henwood of Hannibal.

Henwood withdrew after his name had been submitted by the First District delegation. He said he would not permit his name to go before the meeting if it would result in a fight on Hadley.

Thomas R. Parks of Kansas City, a Hadley booster, made a losing fight for his candidate. He said that it had been reported that a caucus had been held at the Planters Hotel two weeks ago and that it was said there that Hadley would not be permitted to have any honors from the party in the state.

"Hadley is the big asset of the party in this state," said Marks, "and whether or not he receives honors here he will surely receive them in Chicago. Turning to Morse, Marks exclaimed: 'You ought to keep your name out of the papers and quit raising hell. If I were a Billy Sunday I'd raise hell with you. There's nothing personal in this, Liv, but I'm talking right straight at you. Why don't you get right down to the grass roots and find out what's doing in this state?'"

Stifel was nominated by State Senator A. E. L. Gardner of Clayton. The votes of proxies were accepted, but T. K. Niedringhaus, chairman of the meeting, ruled that in view of a pending contest the delegates at the Eleventh St. Louis District should not be permitted to vote.

Babler Is Indorsed. The meeting indorsed the action of the Excelsior Springs convention in recommending Jacob L. Babler to succeed Niedringhaus as national committee man. The committee will be chosen by the Missouri delegates at the Chicago convention.

Former Gov. Hadley was expected to attend today's meeting, but he telephoned from Kansas City this morning that an attack of biliousness would prevent him from coming to St. Louis.

Many Delegates for Hughes; Anti-Roosevelt Sentiment. Post-Dispatch reporters who polled the delegates as to their choice for the presidential nomination found considerable Hughes sentiment and no little anti-Roosevelt sentiment.

Thomas R. Marks of Kansas City, for years a close follower of Gov. Hadley, and E. L. Morse of Excelsior Springs, a standard State leader of 1912, both said they were undecided.

Holmes hall of Sedalia said he was "open minded." W. C. Porter of Carthage, D. W. Porter of Mount City, D. H. Kirk of Harrisonville and J. M. McAnulty of Neosho, all said they were for Hughes and had no second choice.

T. W. Huckreide of Warrenton, new State chairman, said he was undecided as to which had his first choice, Fairbanks, Weeks or Hughes. David W. Peters of Jefferson City said he was "for Hughes, first, last and all the time."

Otto Stifel of St. Louis said "Anybody but Teddy." Sam Ulen of Dexter said he was "for Hughes, but there are lots of good men." Dr. J. R. A. Grossland, a negro of St. Joseph, sitting instead of John C. McKinley of Unionville, said he was "for Hughes or Roosevelt."

Ralph O. Stauber of St. Joseph said he had not made up his mind, although he believed his district favors Hughes and he thinks a great deal of Hughes, Root and Burton. W. P. Sullivan said he was for "Root, Hughes or Weeks and against Roosevelt."

F. P. Nipper of Potosi said he had no choice except that he was against Roosevelt. Berryman Henwood of Hannibal said he had no preference except that he was "unalterably opposed" to Roosevelt. A. E. L. Gardner of St. Louis County said he was for Hughes and had no second choice.

Thomas K. Niedringhaus declined to name his choice. Dr. G. W. Duncan of Iberia said he was for Fairbanks and would not consider Roosevelt.

Harry Clymer of Steelville favored Fairbanks for the presidency, Charles Nagel of St. Louis for the vice presidency and said he would not consider Roosevelt.

C. C. Madison of Kansas City said his mind was "wide open" and he would not make a choice before the Chicago convention. William Zachritz of St. Louis also said he was undecided.

Carl J. Schmidlapp, vice president of the Chase National Bank of New York, who was in St. Louis today, predicted the nomination of Justice Hughes by the Chicago convention, and said he thought Col. Roosevelt would eventually support Hughes. He said he had found Hughes sentiment strong in New York and in the Central states, with some Roosevelt sentiment.

Lost! The Post-Dispatch Want Ads will restore it if the article is found by an honest person.

FIRST SUBMARINE ENGINE READY IN DIESEL FACTORY

Develops 75 Horse Power in Addition to the 600 Required by the Government.

The first marine engine ever made in St. Louis for use in a submarine has just been completed at the factory of the Busch-Sulzer Bros. Diesel Engine Co. at 3300 South Second street.

The engine is of the Diesel type, which burns heavy oil of a kind formerly regarded as a worthless refinery by-product. The development of the Diesel type of engine revealed a new use for this grade of oil.

Three navy lieutenants have been in St. Louis for months, supervising the building of the engine, which was designed to develop 600 horsepower, but on its final factory test showed 675 horsepower, or 12 1/2 per cent more than the specifications called for.

The engine has been sold to the Lake Submarine Co. In about three weeks it will be installed in the new submarine L-8, which that company is building for the United States Government at Portsmouth, N. H.

Besides the one in St. Louis the only other Diesel engine in the world in the United States is that of the Electric Boat Co. at New London, Conn. This company makes submarines for the Government under the Holland patents and has installed Diesel engines in several of its submarines.

The United States Government's "Safety First Special" train of 12 cars of exhibits from various departments of the Government, which is open to the public at Union Station from 1 to 9 p. m. today and tomorrow, is equipped with eight grafonolas.

These instruments were furnished through the courtesy of the Columbia Graphophone Co. to supply music for the entertainment of the visiting public, as well as to the people traveling in the cars of the exhibits.

No Money for U. S. Seed Distribution. WASHINGTON, May 23.—The agricultural appropriation bill was reported by the Senate Committee yesterday, carrying $2,900,000, a reduction of nearly $700,000 from the total as passed by the House. The committee eliminated $200,000 allowed for free distribution of seeds.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT

It is not necessary to shampoo quite so frequently if your hair is properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers may be prepared very cheaply by dissolving a teaspoonful of salicyl, obtained from your druggist, in a cup of hot water. This rubbed into the scalp creates a thick lather, soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to scalp and hair. After rinsing the scalp is fresh and clean, while the hair dries quickly and evenly. Developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—ADV.

DIVORCE DECREE RECOMMENDED FOR NEW YORK PASTOR

The Rev. C. B. Ackley of Fashionable St. Bartholomew's Married Atlanta Society Girl.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, May 23.—Phoenix Ingraham, referee, yesterday submitted to Supreme Court Justice Giegerich a report recommending a divorce for the Rev. Charles B. Ackley, assistant rector of the fashionable St. Bartholomew's Church. The report is based upon the testimony showing that Mrs. Henrietta L. Ackley, wife of the clergyman, while abroad, received visits from Samuel Charles, a wealthy European. He is alleged to have met Mrs. Ackley while she was traveling in Paris and Genoa. She filed an answer denying the charges, but the referee held there was evidence sufficient to warrant a decree. Justice Giegerich reserved decision upon the Rev. Mr. Ackley's motion to confirm the report.

The Rev. Mr. Ackley was married in Atlanta in December, 1907, to Henrietta L. Owsley. She has a fine contralto voice and was a favorite in social circles in Atlanta and this city. Among her friends are numbers Miss Theodora Shonts and her sister, the Duchess de Chaulnes. She is a niece of Mrs. John B. Gordon, widow of Gen. John B. Gordon, former Governor of Georgia, and is noted for her beauty.

The Rev. Mr. Ackley was born in Wisconsin and became curate of Grace Church after his admission to the ministry. Prior to his association with St. Bartholomew's he was archdeacon of Oriente Province, Cuba.

USING UP VITALITY

The struggle for success uses up vitality in America at a greater rate than any other thing. Fighting to keep away from the poor-house we shorten the distance to the grave.

Especially in middle age, at forty or thereabouts, do we become impressed with the necessity of laying up a competence and with that feeling in time comes worry, nervous breakdown, neurasthenia. The entire system feels the result of the nervous strain. The digestion resents things that it accepted before, the heart palpitates on slight exertion, the muscles of the back ache after a day's work. Your blood is thinner and not so bright a red.

When these things occur, whether you are fourteen or forty, you need a tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suit most people's needs because they are non-alcoholic and they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. They are useful for growing children and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overtaxed.

Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free booklets on the blood and nerves.—ADV.

Party Obtains Guns and Ammunition From Carranza Officials at Juarez.

By CLAIR KENAMORE. A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

EL PASO, Tex., May 23.—Disregarding the request of the United States Government that Americans leave and stay out of Mexico for the present, a party of 12 Americans started this morning for Parral to look after their properties, relying on the promises of the Carranza Government for protection.

At the head of the party is A. J. McQuatters of the Alvarado Mining and Milling Co. McQuatters, who lives in Boston, is a rich man. He was responsible for the resumption of the conference between Gen. Obregon and Gen. Scott after it seemed an empassé had been reached. He was undoubtedly of great assistance to the American conferees in the memorable hour when in a hotel room, but from the subsequent conferences he was excluded. He showed no resentment at the time, but it is probable that his action today was a reflection of his feelings.

John Y. Baskin in Party. Second in command is John Y. Baskin, a customs broker and a pioneer of the border. He acted as interpreter in one of the conferences. Baskin has performed many notable deeds in Mexico, particularly the bringing to Presidio from Parral of $1,000,000 in gold bullion in 1910. He has been in the line of revolution when all railroads were idle. He has been in the line of war with false bottoms and loaded with alfalfa.

The Alvarado is one of the best silver and gold producing properties owned by Americans in Mexico. McQuatters has been on to keep the property running nearly all the time since the revolutions began, but after the Santo Isabel massacre, he was forced to close. Six weeks ago he thought he would reopen, but the Washington authorities insisted that his American employees be kept out of Mexico.

McQuatters obtained assurances from the de facto Government which he considered satisfactory, and, abjuring the American Government of responsibility, decided to open the mines anyway. Then Washington refused to allow them to take arms and ammunition across the border, and he seemed effectually stopped. Then came the conference between Scott and Obregon, and after it during the matter of arms, without which it would be impossible to go to the Parral country.

McQuatters has finally succeeded in obtaining the necessary weapons and cartridges from the Carranza officials. This morning in special cars they were ready for any emergency.

Besides McQuatters and Baskin, the others of the party were T. G. Hawkins, William Morrill, Roy C. Higley, A. J. Buick and H. Collins. All are well known in the Alvarado Company; for the Alvarado Company, T. G. McKensie, general manager; A. C. Hobbie, William Maxwell and Carl Garminger, Edward C. Bryan, a representative of the Guadalupe Mining Co., also accompanied the party. He is a first cousin of the former Secretary of State.

These men expect to go first to Chihuahua City for a conference with the military authorities there, then they will proceed to Parral, unless forbidden. Parral is now considered the center of the anti-American propaganda, and the feeling there has been very strong since the fight in which the American soldiers were attacked in the city. The 12 who started today, the first to try to resume the operation of mines, are fully cognizant of the risk they run.

Four Cavalry Troops Back in U. S. After Two Weeks' Mexican Expedition.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 23.—Col. Sibley reported to Major-General Funston, last night, the return to the American side of the border of the four troops of cavalry that pursued for two weeks the Mexicans who raided Glenn Springs and Boquilla.

The net result of the expedition was the rescue of Jesse Deemer and Monroe Payne and the capture of five bandits, all wounded, in operations covering 200 miles. The entire party, including Maj. Langhorne's men, who entered first and who continued in the lead, is 188 miles from the international boundary. None of the Americans was killed or wounded.

The men are encamped at Deemer's, and when rested probably will rejoin their regiments on patrol duty.

Two New Big Army Aeroplanes Arrive at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, N. M., May 23.—Two new 100-horsepower aeroplanes arrived here today and military aviators began preparing them for service.

Eighteen cars of food and forage shipped over the Mexican & Northwestern Railroad, reached the American command at Casas Grande yesterday, according to reports here. This, taken with the dispatch of an engineer company to repair roads below Colonia Dublin, was taken here as supporting the contention that for the present no general withdrawal of the expeditionary command is contemplated.

Child Is Burned to Death. SWEETWATER, Neb., May 23.—Fire of unknown origin last night destroyed the State Bank, a well known business here. The 1-year-old son of N. S. Jensen, proprietor of the pool hall, was burned to death.

LABOR OVERLOOKED IN PREPAREDNESS PARADE PLANS

Eleventh-Hour Invitations Sent to Unions for St. Louis Club Meeting Tonight.

WAS DUE TO AN ERROR

Working Men Generally Believed to Look Upon Demonstration Favorably.

Inquiry by a Post-Dispatch reporter today regarding the attitude of organized labor toward the preparedness parade scheduled for June 2, disclosed that while many of the leaders of labor organizations are friendly toward the demonstration, they have been wondering why their organizations have not been asked to participate in the parade.

It was found that the committee in charge of the general meeting to be held at the St. Louis Club tonight had failed to send invitations to labor organizations because of an error in mailing lists.

As a result of the Post-Dispatch inquiry, Horace D. Johns, secretary of the St. Louis branch of the National Security League, contacted by telephone, explained the mistake and received assurances that the labor organizations probably would be able to send representatives to the meeting tonight.

Charles Hertenstein, president of the St. Louis Typographical Union, No. 8, said that in the absence of an invitation he could not tell what the members of the union might do, but he said that he intended to march in the parade, as he believed in national preparedness and he believed that most of the members of labor organization felt the same way, with the possible exception of the members who are radical Socialists.

Leaders Paraded Preparedness. L. H. Pender, president of the District Council of Carpenters, embracing all the St. Louis locals, said that he believed in the idea expressed by the parade in New York and the parade planned for St. Louis and other cities. He also said he could not speak for his organization until some sort of an invitation to join in the parade had been received.

Joseph Hauser, president of the Central Trades and Labor Union and secretary of the Brewers and Malsters Union, which alone comprises about 60,000 workers, said that he knew nothing of the parade except what he had read in newspapers. He said that, personally, he believed in a nation being prepared for any emergency.

He added that if an invitation was received by the brewery workers to participate in the parade that the matter would be considered at once by the 150 delegates representing the 60,000 workers, but that he would be unwilling to make any statement as to the probable action of the delegates.

Invitation Is Received. Maurice J. Cassidy, secretary of the Building Trades Council, said that he had just received an invitation by telephone to have representatives of the council attend the conference at the St. Louis Club tonight. He said that it appeared to him that the parade represented a good national plan, but what action might be taken by the council as to being represented at the conference or taking part in the parade would depend upon his consultation with other labor leaders later in the day.

David Kreyling, secretary of the Central Trades and Labor Union, said that he could not discuss any possible action by the union until some invitation had been received and acted upon.

Representatives of about 10 civic organizations have accepted invitations to send representatives to the informal discussion of parade plans tonight. Invitations were sent to 127 organizations

Way Swindlers Got His $10,000 Makes Him Laugh

John R. Harris, Mulcted in Fake Horse Race, Says Confidence Men Were 'Pretty Slick' to Get an 'Old Coon' Like Him.

Hotel and there we met another man. I guess he must have had a bet up because Lewis gave him a roll of bills that must have been $20,000 or more.

"Monroe asked me if I wanted to go in with him and get some of the easy money, and I told him I thought I would. We decided to bet a big bag and Friday morning I met Monroe at the German-American Bank, and he cashed a draft for $20,000. The money was wired to him from Louisville, he told me.

"We made the bet, Lewis putting up cash and me putting up my check for $10,000. The check wasn't signed, but Lewis said it was all right.

"Yesterday when I went over to collect, Lewis said we had won the bet, but he wouldn't let me go out and cash my check and bring the money to him so he could show the bookmaker I actually had the cash to make good the bet if we had lost.

"I hustled out and cashed the check and brought the money back. Lewis left me to collect our winnings. Pretty soon Monroe left the room and after I waited for them to return for about 15 minutes I got suspicious, and went out to hunt for them. I guess I got excited when I discovered they were gone with my money.

Harris chuckled in concluding his story of the swindle, as he said: "They're pretty slick to get the best of an old coon like me."

The dupe of the confidence men, although owning considerable property in St. Louis, has lived a great part of his life on a farm. He has been in St. Louis about four years, and had his residence here once before, many years ago. He has several grown children.

Harris declined to say how he raised the money he wagered on the confidence game, but said he had plenty more and would "continue to eat regularly."

and the committee believes that many will send representatives without sending a formal acceptance.

Selden P. Pender, Richard McCulloch and Sam McPheters, president of the Police Board, have been selected as a committee to look after police and street car arrangements for the parade.

The committee has canceled an address to have been given at Central High School by George R. Johns, because there has not been sufficient time to make advance announcements of the meeting. During next week several speakers will address the pupils of the high schools at the morning assembly.

East St. Louis to Have Independent Preparedness Parade.

Mayor Mollman of East St. Louis last night appointed a committee of five Councilmen to arrange for a "Preparedness Day" parade on June 8. He will proclaim a half-day holiday in order that all employees of manufacturing plants who so desire may join in the parade. The Mayor said he believed 15,000 persons would march in such a parade.

The members of the committee are Councilmen Minette, Fletcher, Fowler, Cunningham and Bischoff. The school authorities will be asked to let all the school children, who wish, to participate. All women's clubs in the city will be invited to participate.

Congressman Rodenberg will be asked to get some regular United States troops. Civil and Spanish War veterans already have volunteered to participate, and the Boy Scouts will be invited. The committee tonight will go to Labor Temple and extend an invitation to all labor unions to attend in a body.

Mayor Mollman today said he would decline an invitation from Mayor Kiel to join with the St. Louis celebration. The Equestrienne Club of the Na-

TWO WOMEN AND MAN ACQUITTED OF POISON CHARGE

Accused of Causing Death of Baby, Mother and Aunt, Near Vienna, Mo.

VIENNA, Mo., May 23.—At a preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon Mrs. Morris Rollins, Mrs. Ellen Mathews and Homer Crane were acquitted of charges of poisoning and causing the death of Mrs. Rosa Nelson, Miss Clara Mathews and the 16-month-old baby of Mrs. Nelson, March 23 last.

Following the death of the three persons, who lived in the Dry Creek country, about eight miles south of Vienna, St. Louis physicians examined their viscera and found traces of poison.

The arrest of Crane and the two women followed a story told by Mrs. Lucy Jones Houston of Dixon, Mo., who was said to have been a former sweetheart of one of the Mathews. Mrs. Nelson and Miss Clara Mathews were sisters.

The hearing yesterday consumed all afternoon and was attended by a crowd that packed the courtroom. It was held at the state, represented by Prosecuting Attorney Leslie B. Hutchinson at Attorneys Terrill and Kirkham, failed to show that the accused had anything to do with the deaths. Their vindication leaves the strange and sudden death of the two women and the baby as much a mystery as ever.

SANDS WILL LEAVE $4000 TO PRINT 'GENEALOGICAL NOTES'

Two Sisters in Chicago Get Bulk of Estate, and $12,000 Goes to Niece.

The will of James T. Sands, who died last Saturday, was filed for probate today. Charles W. Holtcamp and Henry A. Baker were the witnesses to the will, which was made in 1908. As Holtcamp is now Judge of the Probate Court, the will had to be taken to the Circuit Court to be proved. After Judge Taylor heard the proofs, he turned it over to Judge Holtcamp to probate.

Harold H. Tittmann was named as trustee for Sands' estate and also for the estate of Martha Ros Hunter, of which Sands was formerly trustee, and for the Ros Building Trust, which was managed by Sands. The will directs that $12,000 be held in trust for each of his sisters, Mrs. F. S. Martin and Elizabeth A. Sands, both of Chicago, and $12,000 in trust for a niece, Lillian Martin of Chicago.

Tittmann is directed in the will to spend $4000 for the printing of 100 copies of the "Sands Genealogical Notes," which Sands had prepared. These are to be given to the libraries and any individual who desires a copy. The balance of the estate, the total value of which has not been estimated, is to go to the two sisters.

GARDNER GROTE WINS AUTO

Gardner Grote, 308A Park avenue, won the $400 automobile offered by the Stix, Baer & Fuller Dry Goods Co. to the boy building the best original model from Erector toys. The automobile is now being exhibited in a show window at the Grand-Leader in which the winner is building original models from Erector toys.

The presentation will be made at the store by Mayor Kiel at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. A luncheon will be given in honor of the Mayor.

The cook who doesn't often want a new place may be "reading Post-Dispatch wants" just now and may be had for the asking.

BELLEVILLE PROTESTS AGAINST HIGHER RAIL RATE TO ST. LOUIS

Southern Railway Cancels Commutation Fare, Which Was Cheaper Than on Street Cars.

The Belleville Commercial Club today filed with the State Public Utilities Commission a protest on the cancellation of commutation rates on the Southern Railway from Belleville to East St. Louis and from Belleville to St. Louis and return.

The Southern Railway recently filed a new passenger tariff with the commission in which it fixed the rate to East St. Louis at 28 cents, 13 cents higher than the street car rate, and the rate to St. Louis at 60 cents, 24 cents higher than the street car rate.

Formerly the Southern issued books good for 64 rides within 60 days to East St. Louis for $6.75; to St. Louis for $7.75, making the rate to St. Louis 2 cents cheaper than on the street car and the rate to East St. Louis 2 1/2 cents cheaper than on the street car.

GERMANY FAILED SINN FEIN REBELS AT LAST MOMENT

Authorities Give Inside Story of Irish Revolt, and Events Leading to It.

AMERICANS GAVE AID Boy-Ed and Von Papen Assisted Men Here to Take Funds Over Ocean.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 23.—This is the history as told by the authorities here of the widespread plot which resulted in the ill-fated uprising in Ireland which plunged the Emerald Isle for a period into a reign of bloodshed and destruction. It is a story to the effect that the Sinn Fein organization was used as a pawn in the game played by Berlin and certain German revolutionists in America, and how the failure of the revolt was made doubly sure by the inability or disinclination on the part of Germany to carry out important features of the plan at almost the last moment. The facts given here have been taken from authentic British sources and are presented as completely as possible under the censorship.

The plot had its inception shortly after the beginning of the war, when certain Irishmen and German authorities conceived the idea of utilizing the Sinn Fein organization for a revolt—the Germans being actuated, of course, by the admittedly legitimate purpose of weakening Great Britain.

Victims of Scheme.

At that time, the Sinn Feiners, who really had organized themselves out of jealousy of Nationalist volunteers, probably had no definite idea of starting a revolt. They accepted the plan, however, and eventually fell victims to a scheme which was not of their own making.

The name of Sir Roger Casement appears prominently throughout the story. He went from America to Christiania late in 1914, and conferred with the German Consul and then proceeded direct to Germany with his Norwegian servant. Coincident with his arrival in Berlin, certain Irishmen placed their influence and guarantee of assistance back of an Irish rebellion. It was thought at that time that a revolution could be made successful and elaborate plans for furthering the movement were put under way. According to this account, German agreed to furnish money, arms and men to assist the Sinn Feiners, and, most important of all, is said to have agreed to an invasion of England, which would prevent soldiers being sent into Ireland by the British War Department.

America was made the medium of communication between Berlin and Ireland. Certain Irishmen in the United States and Capt. Boy-Ed and Von Papen are said to have done their part in furthering the plans. The carrying of funds and information to the Sinn Feiners was done largely by Irish sympathizers in America, who were able to visit their home land without question.

Shortly after Casement's arrival in Germany he published charges that the British Minister at Christiania had tried to have him assassinated. His accusations against the British minister are now said to have been the initial step in a publicity campaign to gain sympathy.

Sir Roger was next reported going about the prison camps trying to recruit Irish soldiers to fight against England. He is said to have obtained few acceptances, but some men agreed to his proposition and were immediately given their freedom and furnished with the green uniform of the Sinn Feiners. This recruiting and somewhat haphazard plotting went on until November, 1915. Then there was a lull in proceedings.

The truth appears to be that the revolutionary wind which had blown so hot from Berlin at first was then getting cool. The Germans had grown tired of Casement. Casement, retired to Munich, where it was reported he was in poor health. After a considerable spell of comparative inactivity, those persons in the United States who were taking a part in the engineering of the revolution became weary of waiting for developments and sent a man to see Casement. He brought word that a definite date for the uprising must be set. This was agreed to and either Easter Sunday or Easter Monday was fixed upon.

As the time drew near it was seen that a revolution could not be made, a success, and the idea of an invasion was virtually discarded. This fact was not known to the Sinn Feiners until almost the moment before the night it started. However, certain Berlin officials had given their word to assist the movement, and decided to satisfy the obligation as far as possible without heavy loss of life or war material.

Ship Is Dispatched.

Easter approached and it was proposed to dispatch a ship to Ireland with arms and those Irish soldiers who had agreed to fight. A naval attack on the east coast of England and air raids also were settled upon to divert the attention of the British authorities from Ireland. The ship, with some 20,000 arms, did start from Kiel for Tralee, on the western coast of Ireland, but it was manned by a German crew and did not carry the Irish recruits.

When Sir Roger found that the plan for an invasion of England had fallen through he refused to let his followers embark, declaring that it would be sheer murder. He did agree to go himself, and departed on the submarine.

The fate of the ship of arms and of Casement has been told. Sir Roger and his associates fell into the hands of the British at Tralee and the ship was sunk. The naval attack and air raids on the British coast were carried out, but the Sinn Feiners found themselves espousing a hopeless cause.

Viscount Says He Warned Birrell of Irish Outbreak.

LONDON, May 23.—At the conclusion yesterday of the Royal Commission's inquiry into the Irish revolt, Viscount Middleton described the action which he said he had taken to bring the activities of the Sinn Fein to the attention of the Irish authorities before the outbreak.

He said he had conferred with Augustine Birrell, then Chief Secretary for Ireland, and had urged that the national volunteers be disbanded. Birrell had said, in effect, declared the witness, that the movement was one to be laughed at, not one to be taken seriously, and that to proclaim them an illegal body and put them down by force would be a reckless, foolish act, and promote disloyalty to a prodigious extent.

Lord Wimborne, who resigned as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland after the revolt, caused a stir in the room when he testified that the Admiral at Queenstown had received information that Sir Roger Casement had departed from Germany and that his ship, accompanied by two two submarines, might be expected off the Irish coast about Easter Sunday. That information, he said, had not been communicated to the Irish Government.

Birrell Is Recalled.

Preceding Viscount Middleton, Birrell was recalled, a difference of opinion having arisen between himself and the War Office as to what had happened during the conferences mentioned by the former Chief Secretary for Ireland in his testimony last week. A letter written by Major-General Macready of the Adjutant-General's staff of the War Department at the request of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, Secretary for War, was read in which Gen. Macready said the conference of March 20, at which Birrell, according to his testimony, had asked for more troops to be sent to Ireland had reference to the state of recruiting in Ireland and that the proposal was that troops should be sent to various parts of Ireland to encourage men to join the colors.

"So far as we are aware," said Gen. Macready's letter, "there was no question of sending troops for the purpose of overhauling the Sinn Feiners."

Gen. Friend, the commander of the forces in Ireland, the latter continued, had reported the possibility of trouble in South Ireland and suggested that he would need more troops. As a result, arrangements were made for a reserve battalion to be sent if it was required.

Birrell, in reply, said he was surprised to hear that he had omitted to mention at the conference the necessity of sending troops to Dublin. He certainly had done so, he declared, in interviews with Gen. French and Friend.

Had Warned Others.

Viscount Middleton, continuing, gave further testimony regarding warnings he declared he had given Baron Wimborne, then Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; the Marquis of Lansdowne and others of the impending danger. The witness said he had said he was surprised to hear that he had omitted to mention at the conference the necessity of sending troops to Dublin. He certainly had done so, he declared, in interviews with Gen. French and Friend.

Baron Wimborne was then called and said that since the Chief Secretary for Ireland had dislodged the Lord Lieutenant in the Cabinet, the Lord Lieutenant's powers had been entirely usurped by the Chief Secretary and the Under-Secretary.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREIN.

Lack of fresh air, it is said, weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed. Put out on by indoor life is unhealthy, and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off, a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air, breathe deeply, and get from Wolf-Wilkinson's Oil of Korein a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Watch yourself! Every few days add keep up the treatment until you are able to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, does not cause indigestion, and even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.—ADV.

REQUEST FROM U. S. CAUSED REVIEW OF LYNCH SENTENCE

Death Penalty Commuted to 10 Years After Inquiry by American Embassy.

LONDON, May 23.—Regarding the Jeremiah C. Lynch case, the Foreign Office stated yesterday that Gen. Maxwell, commanding the forces in Ireland, sent a telegram to Premier Asquith which said that Lynch had participated openly in the rebellion, having been seen frequently in an Irish uniform at Liberty Hall during the fighting.

The courtmartial sentenced him to death, but Gen. Maxwell, after the receipt of the request from the American embassy, reviewed the sentence and commuted it to 10 years' imprisonment. It is believed that Gen. Maxwell left the way open to the Premier for a further commutation of the sentence, but it is not known what action Asquith will take.

Another Death Sentence Commuted Besides That of Lynch.

DUBLIN, May 23.—It is officially announced that in addition to the sentence of death imposed on Jeremiah C. Lynch, a similar sentence was imposed upon Peter Gallagher, but that this sentence was commuted to five years' penal servitude.

Our Second Annual Test of Newspaper Advertising

This advertisement is composed entirely of coupons, which are published in all the evening papers in which we advertise

These coupons are worth money. Customers in presenting them for part payment on goods tomorrow give us the key to which newspapers "pull best"—because there is in the corner of each coupon initials which indicate the paper in which it appeared. These, of course, we sort and count.

The Information We Thus Gain Is Used in Placing Our Advertising for the Next Year

This information is most valuable, and to secure it we are willing to pay well. Bringing the coupon will save you a great deal of money. The only thing we ask in return is that

Nugents

While it is true the three evening papers have figures which they submit us as to their bonafide circulation, yet we know we can tell best by this method as to what papers are the most popular with the greatest number of St. Louisans. Do not fail to clip the coupon from the paper you generally read.

PLEASE do not ask us to sell any of the advertised merchandise without coupons, or do not ask for more than one article unless the coupon calls for same. None of these articles sent C. O. D. or phone orders filled.

Our Second Annual Test of Newspaper Advertising

This advertisement is composed entirely of coupons, which are published in all the evening papers in which we advertise

These coupons are worth money. Customers in presenting them for part payment on goods tomorrow give us the key to which newspapers "pull best"—because there is in the corner of each coupon initials which indicate the paper in which it appeared. These, of course, we sort and count.

The Information We Thus Gain Is Used in Placing Our Advertising for the Next Year

This information is most valuable, and to secure it we are willing to pay well. Bringing the coupon will save you a great deal of money. The only thing we ask in return is that

REPLIES TO WADE SAYING UTILITIES ARE BEING 'MILKED'

Alderman Declares That If They Are Weak, "Burdensome Contracts" Are to Blame.
Alderman Barney L. Schwartz of the Twenty-fifth Ward, in an address last night at the Hamilton Hotel before the Junior Business Men's Association of West St. Louis, made reply to the recent speech before the Business Men's League of Patus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Co., who complained that St. Louis was going backward because of complaints against public utility corporations and demands for lower electric and gas rates, and seats for every United-Railways passenger.
"I thought Mr. Wade the last man in St. Louis who should complain of investigations by city officials of these public utility corporations," Alderman Schwartz said, "because Wade and a great many others have made a great deal of money while representing stock in these corporations."
"While true that some corporations have lost money, they have been milked by burdensome contracts. Wade and men associated with him are responsible for that."
He Tells of Contracts.
Alderman Schwartz declared that Wade, while not a stockholder, was an organizer of the Mississippi River Power Distributing Co., which buys electricity from the Keokuk Dam and sells it as the middleman, to the Union Electric and United Railways, of which Wade is a director. Schwartz then told of the contract by which Union Electric pays $25 per horsepower year—or current that costs the middleman company $18, amounting in one year to $450,000. This he cited as an example of how St. Louis' public utility corporations were "being milked by burdensome contracts."
"Wade was a director in the Union Electric and United Railways when these burdensome contracts were made," Alderman Schwartz asserted. "If these companies are in a weak financial condition let Wade blame himself and his associates, and not the city, because investigation has shown that all the troubles of St. Louis are artificial; that our high rates for gas, electricity and coal are the result of peculiar contracts and stock issues made by our public utilities."
Says Gas Rates Are High.
"Gas in St. Louis County for manufacturers is cheaper than in St. Louis. We are in close proximity to magnificent coal fields that ought to give us the cheapest coal in the world, but we cannot compete with East St. Louis because railroads have stuck a 20-cent-a-ton arbitrary on coal for us."
"Instead of complaining of mistreatment by the public and by city officials, these men could make St. Louis a great factory city, and could make money for these companies, if they would loosen up and fix the proper prices for electricity, gas and coal."
Schwartz is the chairman of the aldermanic committee investigating the feasibility of a municipal electric light plant, and had Wade before the committee as a witness to determine what interest the North American, of which he is a director, holds in the Union Electric, United Railways and Keokuk Dam. He learned that all these utilities are controlled by the North American. Schwartz's term as an Alderman expires next April. Today he filed as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Judge of the Court of Criminal Correction.

REGAL

The Most Popular Shoe in the World—Why?

WE have sold more of this shoe in our fifty Regal stores than any other women's low shoe, because it embodies all the style features of this Spring in a delicate, feminine way. The various colored kids and calfs, the dainty perforations, small graceful tongue, slender toe and Louis Heel, combined with the snug fitting of patterns, have made it a leader.

See it in Regal windows; compare it "with others," point for point and price for price. Then we may safely leave the purchase to your judgment.

Made in Black Kid; Black Calf; Blue and White Combination; Havana Brown; Havana Brown and White Combination; all Bronze Kid; all Pearl Kid; $4.00.

T. R. FORESEES DEFEAT, G. O. P. LEADERS THINK

Von Meyer Statement Taken as Paving Way for Acceptance of Republican Nominee.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The New York Sun today prints the following: "Republican leaders who were asked yesterday for their opinion of the statement issued by George Von Meyer and his associates announcing their intention to 'crystallize the demands among Republican voters for the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency,' said they regarded it as an acknowledgment of the defeat of all the efforts the Progressives have been making for months to get the Republican party to accept Mr. Roosevelt as a candidate.

"This effort of a committee of Republicans was interpreted as inspired by Col. Roosevelt to pave the way for his acceptance of whatever candidate the Republicans nominate, and for his refusal to let the Progressives nominate him as their candidate in the event, now regarded as certain by these leaders, that some one else gets the Republican nomination.

"According to this view the crystallization of all the sentiment in the Republican party for the nomination of Col. Roosevelt will result in about 60 votes in the convention, less than many of the 'favorite sons' now have, and the passing over of the Colonel just as others even stronger than he in the command of votes will be passed over.

"The Colonel, according to this view, having had his day in court, having had fair trial of his strength with the party's accredited representatives and finding that he is not the man wanted, will accept the verdict, as a brave man and gallant gentleman should and declare himself for the successful contestant.

"Such an attitude on his part, it was said, will mean certain victory for the Republican ticket, and will make the Colonel a bigger figure in the Republican party four years hence than he is today or can hope to be up to the time the convention adjourns.

"As for the possibility that the Progressives might nominate a candidate other than Roosevelt on a third ticket that eventuality is regarded with not the slightest concern. In the opinion of organization Republicans no candidate other than Col. Roosevelt running on a third ticket could poll enough votes to make any difference in the result as between Wilson and the Republican nominee.

"Analysis of the list of committeemen who are about to crystallize Roosevelt sentiment in the Republican party does not convince the organization Republicans here that the new movement is fraught with great possibilities. As near as could be figured out yesterday there were three delegates to the Republican national convention in the list of signers: "Winfield C. Hart, the negro delegate from Atlantic City, N. J., is one of them and W. A. Lord of East Orange, N. J., is another. H. T. Stanton of Grand Rapids, Mich., is the third. It was asserted that not one of the three signers commands a vote in the convention.

"With the convention only two weeks off interviewers were impressed yesterday by the fact that men known to be cut and out Root men mentioned the name of Justice Hughes in a way to indicate that results in some of the Western states have convinced them that Justice Hughes may be the candidate despite the old guards control of the convention and the desire to get someone else if it is possible.

"Should the Hughes boom continue to grow during the next two weeks further manifestations of kindness toward him are expected."

ROOSEVELT TELLS NEW COMMITTEE OF HIS ATTITUDE

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., May 23.—In reply to George von L. Meyer, former Secretary of the Navy, who yesterday officially notified him that the Roosevelt Republican Committee, with membership in 30 states, had been organized to work for his nomination for the presidency, Col. Theodore Roosevelt enumerated the principles for which he declared he was fighting, adding, "They are the principles you are organizing to support, and, with all my heart, I welcome such support."

Meyer headed a delegation of 25 members of the committee. In his speech of notification he told Col. Roosevelt that one of the purposes of the committee was to "aid the Republican party in going before the country reunited and in full strength with a candidate who is listened to and trusted by the great mass of the people."

A group of Oyster Bay Progressives were visitors at the Roosevelt home and witnessed the notification.

Col. Roosevelt's reply to the delegation followed: "I am naturally very deeply touched and pleased by your action. I accept it absolutely in the spirit which you have taken it. You are for me because you regard me as representing and embodying the aggressive movement for thoroughgoing Americanism and thoroughgoing preparedness. Your devotion is to the cause and to the man only in so far as he for the time being embodies the cause.

"That is precisely the attitude I took in my Trinidad statement. I now hold and shall continue to hold this a great time of crisis in our country's history, because it is a great crisis in the history of the world. If we are unprepared as we are split and sundered by rivalries of creed, of section and national origin; if our country's action is to be conditioned by helplessness without any of the hyphenate within, the career of the United States is a great factor in the world's civilization is at an end. "There is no use of being for half measures of Americanism and preparedness. Still less is it of any use for any public man to announce himself in vague general terms as in favor of Americanism and preparedness unless his whole course of action in public life has made it evident and now makes it evident that he means just exactly what he says.

"Unless, if he is in office or has been in office, his career has been such as in fullest measure to warrant the belief that he is a man of deeds and not of words in this matter, and unless in every crisis whether he be in or out of office, he frankly and fully takes a position on the concrete facts which are up for decision and applies the abstract statement directly to these concrete facts.

"General professions are utterly worthless unless, in the first place, the man making them is ready immediately to apply them to every concrete case as it actually arises, and unless, in the second place, when he has the opportunity he at once turns his words into deeds.

"I am fighting for these principles. They are the principles you are organizing to support and with all my heart I welcome such support, accepting it as given, primarily to the principles and only secondarily to the man."

"Any man at this time of crisis who is not aggressively, openly and specifically for these principles is against them and every patriotic man should treat our public servants on this basis."

AMERICAN OPERA TO BE PRODUCED AT METROPOLITAN

Book is by Percy MacKaye and Music by Reginald De Koven.

NEW YORK, May 23.—An opera by an American playwright and an American composer will be one of the novelties produced by the Metropolitan Opera Company next season. It was announced last night by General Manager Giulio Gatti-Casazza in making known his plans for the fall. The American opera will be "The Canterbury Pilgrims," the book of which was written by Percy MacKaye and the music by Reginald De Koven.

Virtually all the principal artists have been re-engaged, including Caruso, Scotti, Farrar, Gadski, Alda, Barrientos and Schumann-Heink, and a number of new singers will appear. The season will last 23 weeks.

The company also will produce three other novelties: "Iphigenia in Tauris" by Gluck, from the play of Euripides, which will be sung in German; "Francesca da Rimini," book by Gabriele d'Annunzio and music by R. Zandonai, in Italian; and a French opera, "Les Pecheurs de Perles," by Bizet.

"The Canterbury Pilgrims" is taken from the Canterbury Tales of Chaucer. The book was written by MacKaye several years ago and was produced as a pageant. De Koven, who wrote "Robin Hood" and others in English, returned from Europe this spring with the completed score.

There will be several revivals of opera not heard at the Metropolitan in recent years, including Mozart's "Le Nozze di Figaro," Donizetti's "L'Elisir d'Amore," Massenet's "Thais" and Delibes' "Lakme."

Manager Gatti-Casazza announced the names of six new artists, several of whom are Americans, who have been engaged, and said that he is negotiating with others. He will sail on May 27 for Europe. The new members of the company include three sopranos, Alice Eversman, an American, of the Karlsruhe Opera House; Odette Le Fontenay, a French-American of the Opera Comique, Paris, and Marie Sanderling, a Swedish-American; one contralto, Kathleen Howard, American contralto of the Covent Garden Theatre, London; a bass baritone, Paul Bender of the Royal Theatre in Munich, and Paul Eisler, assistant conductor of the Opera in Vienna.

Consider St. Louis Income Property When Making Your Investments.

Good real estate investments are an income as certain and fixed as anything in human affairs can be. If the income from your money must support you it is important that risks be eliminated. Income real estate investments pretty nearly do this—and there is no real estate safer than St. Louis property. See the Agents' sales offers in the Post-Dispatch—especially Sunday.

SOCIETY

MRS. MORTON JOURDAN of 445 Lindell boulevard gave a bridge party today at Glen Echo Club, in honor of Mrs. Samuel Cook of Jefferson City, Mo., who is visiting her. The hostess' niece, Miss Ruth Hoyt, shared the honors with Mrs. Cook. There were about 125 guests.

The marriage of Miss Florence Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Glover of 411 Lindell boulevard, to Frank W. Swatek of 1711 Oregon avenue took place this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Matthew's Church. The ceremony was followed by a bridal breakfast at the home of the bride for the wedding party and nearest relatives.

The bride's sister, Miss Grace Glover, was maid of honor and the bridegroom's brother, Martin Swatek, was best man. After June 15 Mr. Swatek and his bride will be at home at 3846 McRee avenue.

Miss Grace Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wilson, who has been in New York most of the winter, returned Sunday.

Miss Gladys Ittner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Ittner of 553 Bartmer avenue, is in Washington, D. C., where she has gone to attend the commencement exercises at National Park Seminary, her alma mater.

Mrs. Max Koehler, who has been visiting in Mobile, Ala., for several weeks, has returned to her home in Ferguson.

Miss Jeanette Huttig, daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Huttig of 37 Washington terrace, returned today from Peirce City, Mo., where she has been the guest of Miss Louise Purdy.

Mrs. James H. Allen, who has been in Mercedes, Tex., since last winter, has returned and is stopping with her daughter, Mrs. James Hamilton Grover, of 5105 Waterman avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron E. Catlin, who returned a short time ago from Honolulu, are staying with Mr. Catlin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Catlin, at 21 Vandeventer place.

Mrs. Frank Balke of Cincinnati arrived last evening to visit her mother, Mrs. A. G. Nulsen of 5315 Waterman avenue.

Miss Mercedes Dwyer, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Dwyer of 4938 Lindell boulevard, has gone to New York to visit relatives for several weeks.

Gifts for the coming weddings at the Applied Arts, Grand and Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Platt, who have been residing in California since their marriage two years ago, have taken a house at Belvidere, near San Francisco. They spent several months last winter in Los Angeles. A number of entertainments are being given in honor of Mrs. Harry Culbertson of Chicago, who is visiting Miss Augusta Blanke of the St. Regis Apartments. This afternoon Miss Emilie Cato gave her an informal tea and tomorrow afternoon she and Mrs. William H. Nolker will be the guests of honor at a tea which Miss Blanke's sister, Mrs.

Walter S. Grant, will give. Mrs. Theodore F. Meyer Jr. will have a bridge party Thursday, when Miss Belle Norton Flinay, a prospective bride, will have the honors with Mrs. Culbertson. Mrs. Culbertson was formerly Miss Violet Hatch of Chicago, a former schoolmate of Miss Blanke's. It's Not Too Late. Special Funeral Sprays, $2.50 each. Phone Grimm & Gory.

FOR THIN MEN AND WOMEN WHO WANT TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG

Why Fleshmaking Food Does Not Always Produce Flesh on Thin People. How Weight Has Often Been Increased.

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate yesterday. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? Possibly you haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food probably passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The materials for flesh, fat and strength were there, but your food doesn't work and a stick, and the plain truth may be you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of many thin folks the world over. Their nutritive organs, their functions of assimilation, are probably sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

To those who are in this class and who would like to add from ten to twenty-five pounds of good, firm, healthy flesh, fat and muscular tissue to their weight, the following fact is suggested: First, weigh yourself. Then continue regular meals as before, but eat with every one of them a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks weigh again and note the difference.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food it aims to turn the fat, sugars and starch of what you have eaten into rich, ripe, fat-producing material. It is a powerful stimulant to the blood which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop the waste, and do it quickly, and to make the fat-producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop flesh between your skin and bones.

Reports of its successful use have been received from every part of the country. A lady from California wrote: "I never in my life before weighed more than 115 pounds. Now I weigh 135 and feel fine. My face is filled out and rosy, and I feel better than I have for years." A patron from Wisconsin reported: "I can speak wonders for Sargol, having gained 25 pounds from its use." A man from New York said: "I have gained 21 pounds and look and feel like a new person."

NOTE—Sargol is not, as some believe, a single patented drug, but is instead a skillful combination of six well-regulated flesh-building agents and assimilative aids. Wolf-Wilson Drug Co., John-son-Enderle-Paul's stores, Weisberg Drug Co., Judge & Dolph's stores and other leading local druggists who sell it say there is a large demand for it here among people who wish to gain weight, and that it is always sold in accordance with a guarantee contained in each large package of Sargol tablets in any case if satisfactory weight increase is not attained.—ADV.

GUARDS FAIL TO ANSWER PROMPTLY TO CALL TO ARMS

116 Enlisted Men in Texas Refuse Flatly to Obey Order for Mobilization.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Reports to the War Department from Gen. Funston indicate almost a complete fall-down on the part of the national guard organizations of Texas, Arizona and New Mexico in responding to the call of the President for service with the regular army along the border.

Summoned to the colors on May 9, not a single organization from any of the three states had been mustered in within 10 days.

An official report from San Antonio states that 116 enlisted men of the Second Regiment, comprising the paper strength of the Texas National Guard, have flatly refused to respond to the call, and although court-martial proceedings will be instituted to punish them in accordance with the law, officials of the War Department declare that beyond the infliction of punishment for failure to respond, there is no means of compelling the guardsmen to serve.

At the present rate at which the mobilization is going on for these three states army officers figure it would require between one and two months to mobilize any considerable number of national guard organizations from various parts of the country.

Wanted Stronger Guard.
In connection with complaints that have been made to the War Department from citizens of Arizona to the effect that Gen. Funston was leaving the Arizona border poorly guarded against bandit raids, the General has advised the War Department that the Arizona guard on paper only consists of 742 men, and many of these have not yet reported for duty.

Although the War Department is declining to make public the contents of the complaints from Gen. Funston, sufficient information is available concerning them to indicate that many of the organizations reporting at the concentration camps set aside for the three states are far below the numerical strength needed.

It is also indicated that despite the issue of equipment to these organizations by the Federal Government under the Dick law, many of them are reporting without a sufficient number of uniforms, rifles and other equipment.

In 1915 the War Department issued equipment to the Arizona National Guard to the value of $12,673; New Mexico, $14,624, and to Texas militia $56,414, or a total to the three States of $83,712. Moreover the reports are said to show conflict has resulted over the carrying out of the portion of the law which, in requiring the Federal Government to furnish the equipment to the State as needed for training purposes, also required it to compensate the States for the use of this equipment when the militia is mustered into the regular service in time of emergency.

Must Lower Bars.
In consequence of the poor turnout of the guardsmen, it is said, the physical examination standards in many instances will have to be relaxed in order not to deplete entirely the ranks of the organizations responding to the call. On the other hand, it is stated, to make up the deficiencies in numerical strength already existing the gaps will have to be filled by raw recruits.

In the case of the 116,000 Texans who have flatly refused to respond the reason given for their unwillingness to subscribe in the Federal service when told that they would be required to serve is needed for the full period of their State enlistments. Although the law provides that in such cases the Federal authorities have the right to convene court-martial it was explained at the War Department that the personnel of these courts would have to be made up of State militia officers.

The "Midget Marvel" Flour Mill.
The "Midget Marvel," a condensed roller mill, that by means of the small roller process system can manufacture better flour at less cost than an old-fashioned roller mill, is being introduced into this country by L. Freeman Little of Owensboro, Ky. Little, while touring Europe, six years ago, was impressed with the success of the little mills and secured exclusive rights for their manufacture in the United States. It is said that it is possible with this process to obtain from the wheat berry the finest possible quality of flour, together with an increased quantity per berry. The "Midget Marvel" is claimed, can pack flour in three-quarters of a minute. The big mills take on an average of 45 minutes for the same process. The mills come in sizes with a capacity of 12½, 25, 50 and 75 barrels daily.

DEBATE ON NEW ELECTION PLANS

Discussion at Luncheon of Civic League on Thursday.

A debate on the proposed new system of city elections will take place at a luncheon of the Civic League, Thursday, at the American Annex, at 12:45 o'clock.

A statement will also be made by E. M. Grossman, chairman of the subcommittee, in regard to a new system of selecting the School Board to free it from the danger of political control. The plan proposes the appointment of the School Board by the Mayor. Members at the meeting will be asked to vote on a feature of the plan providing for the recall of School Board members by the people.

Augustus L. Abbott, president, will preside. Mayor Kiel and President McPherson of the Police Board will be guests of honor. Director of Streets and Sewers Talbert will make a brief statement about the clean-up campaign.

The nervous headache and irritable condition of the busy business man is prevented by the timely use of two anti-kamnia tablets. Ask for A-K tablets. All druggists—10c or 25c.

"SAFETY FIRST" SPECIAL IS HERE FOR TWO DAYS

Government Exhibits May Be Viewed From 4 to 9 P. M. at Union Station.

TWELVE CARS IN TRAIN

Army and Navy Equipment Shown in Detail—Children Especially Invited.

The "Safety First Special" of the United States Government, consisting of 15 cars of exhibits, pulled into Union Station on Track 32 this morning, and will be open to the public today and tomorrow, between 1 and 9 p. m.

The train was in East St. Louis yesterday and was visited by hundreds of school children. Announcement was made that the Government is especially hopeful that school children throughout the country will visit the train, and that arrangements could be made by which entire classes, chaperoned by their teachers, could see the exhibits.

Models of safety appliances in all branches of government activity are shown.

The United States navy, its organization, equipment, efficiency and the complement of its officers, enlisted forces and ships of various types can be studied minutely through the comprehensive exhibits representing the maritime strength of the nation. There are models of the pre-dreadnought Vermont and the commerce raider Columbia, and alongside the disappearing guns for coast defense and those used on armed merchantmen. There is a Whitehead torpedo, costing $12,000 and capable of destroying the largest vessels afloat. Aviation equipment and wireless apparatus are shown.

The army exhibit is arranged to show the equipment of soldiers on the field of battle, in military posts, the hospital service, engineering work, recruiting service and every other branch associated with the armed protection of the nation. Army officers are in charge to explain all the details of the military accoutrements. A feature of the army exhibit which attracts special notice is the mask being used by European soldiers fighting where poisonous gases are used. There are models of aeroplanes, with a real motor, such as is used on navy hydroaeroplanes.

Health Exhibit Comprehensive.

A complete system for predicting the weather is in operation on the train in charge of experts from the Weather Bureau at Washington.

The exhibit of the Bureau of Public Health tells the complete story, graphically, of what the Government is doing to protect the nation against the ravages of disease, epidemics and pestilence. Surgeons and sanitation experts explain the exhibits and offer suggestions with a view to improving the condition of health in the communities visited. There are warnings against the housefly, mosquito and the public toilet. The ashbarrel is shown in all its filthiness, infested by disease-carrying rats. It is estimated that for every rat allowed to exist the nation suffers an economic loss of $1.25 annually through injury to property and the spread of disease. Flies continually swarm over the ashbarrel, although it is sanitary in every respect.

A miniature forest, showing how the Government provides against forest fires, is shown by the Department of Interior. Methods of mine rescue work and equipment used are demonstrated.

The coast life guards have an extensive exhibit of buoys, wireless apparatus, life belts and a self-bailing lifeboat.

The Interstate Commerce Commission exhibits a number of fragments of boilers that exploded because of defective construction, and a miniature of "Old Ironsides," one of the first locomotives built, side by side with a model of the latest Pacific type, 12-wheeler.

On board the special train are officials of the Army and Navy, the Departments of Agriculture, Interior, Commerce, Labor, Coast Defense, Weather Bureau, Bureau of Mines, Interstate Commerce Commission, American Red Cross and the medical and engineering staffs of the Government. These officials are accompanied by assistants, clerks, instructors and others who explain each of the exhibits.

The train belongs to the Baltimore & Ohio, and embodies the last work in railroad equipment. It represents an investment of $180,000, independent of the cost to the Government for fitting it out.

Safety First Campaign Is Begun Here.

The safety first campaign, under auspices of the Safety First Committee of the Business Men's League, began this morning, when street cars carried the slogan "Make St. Louis the Safest City. Safety First Is Thinking First."

H. L. Brownell, public safety engineer, is giving free illustrated lectures during the week. He lectured yesterday at Mary Institute and Smith Academy. This afternoon he lectured at the Missouri Athletic Association. He will talk tomorrow at the Business Men's League members' conference luncheon, Mercantile Club; Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington avenues. Other lectures will be given at the public schools, industries and department stores.

It's Not Too Late. Special Funeral Sprays, $2.00 each. Phone Grimm & Gory.

BIG TIME PLANNED FOR DELEGATES TO CONVENTION HERE

Real Work on Program Will Begin With Arrival of Montana Committeeman Thursday.

The work of preparing a definite program of entertainment for delegates to the Democratic national convention, which meets here June 14, will begin in earnest after the arrival of J. Bruce Kremer of Montana, secretary of the Committee on arrangements of the National Committee, who is due here Thursday. The Arrangements Committee will meet June 1 and will meet the next day.

Fifty-two Entertainment Committees which will take care of the delegations from the 48 states, the District of Columbia, the National Committee, outlying possessions and the visiting reporters.

About 500 automobiles will be needed for the entertainment of the guests, and these will be provided by the members of the local Entertainment Committee and their friends. It is planned to take delegates for trips through the residence districts and parks, to a ball game and on a moonlight excursion on the Mississippi River. Besides these trips many suppers are being planned by the various state societies which have volunteered to entertain the delegates from their respective states. Most of these events will take place at Cicardi's, Caffera's, Sunset Hill Country Club, Century Boat Club, the new Riverside Club or like resorts.

It is expected that the city will be alive with bands during convention week, as many delegations will come provided with their own music. It is known that the Ohio delegation will be accompanied by a glee club from Columbus, while the Tammany delegation never leaves home without a strong brass instrument organization.

As the convention date draws near, Chairman Smith announces, it is becoming apparent that the demand for tickets for general admission is going to prove far short of the supply. It is planned to accommodate contributors to the convention as far as possible, but as there are 426 contributors it is apparent from the requests being made that some will be disappointed.

Police Making Arrangements to Protect the Crowds.

The strategy board at police headquarters had a map of the Coliseum before it this morning and was roughly outlining plans for policing the Democratic national convention. It was estimated that between 200 and 300 policemen will be assigned in and around the convention hall.

Pickpockets and other crooks who anticipate making a few dollars at the expense of the convention week will get a warm reception.

Detectives from every other large city will be sent here to co-operate with the local men, and it is expected that Government detectives and representatives of private agencies will be here to help in the work.

As on the occasion of former large gatherings, orders will be issued to arrest every known crook on sight, and keep him or her in cells until the delegates have departed.

22,000 REQUESTS FOR DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION SEATS

WASHINGTON, May 23.—More than 22,000 applications have been received for the 10,000 or 11,000 seats that will be available in the St. Louis convention hall for the Democratic national convention. This will be one of the problems to be considered by the National Committee's sub-committee headed by Chairman McCombs, which meets in St. Louis June 2.

The arrangements committee will select the temporary and permanent chairmen of the convention. Former Governor Martin H. Glynn of New York already is slated for temporary chairmanship. It is understood that Speaker Champ Clark will be asked to become permanent chairman, in spite of the present plan of keeping Congress continuously in session throughout the convention and that until the Speaker has indicated whether he will serve, no one else will be considered.

The temporary roll of the convention has been practically completed by acting Secretary Hollister of the National Committee. Up to today 280 of the 1002 delegates had been chosen—every one pledged to vote for President Wilson's renomination.

Iron Is Greatest of All Strength Builders, Says Doctor

A Secret of the Great Endurance and Power of Athletes

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Delineate, Nervous, Rundown People 300 Per Cent Stronger in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. Sauer, a well-known specialist who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong but they can't tell what, so they generally commence trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by the lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Then take two weeks' time, and then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, double their strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Judge & Dolph Drug Co., Wolf-Watson Drug Co., Johnson-Enderle-Pauler Drug Co. and all other druggists.—A.J.V.

teen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prizefighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the arena, while many another has gone down to ignominious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE.—Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sauer is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents is widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not irritate the stomach, on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in it that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Judge & Dolph Drug Co., Wolf-Watson Drug Co., Johnson-Enderle-Pauler Drug Co. and all other druggists.—A.J.V.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Minister's Protest.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

"They're trying to make a mountain out of a mole hill." This was the amazing reply of Fred D. Gardner, candidate for Governor, to the disclosure of the fact, which had already been confessed, that the company of which he is head and owner has been carrying on the greivous practice of shipping whisky in coffins into prohibition territory. This loathsome custom may appeal to him as a "mole hill," but I have an idea that most right-thinking people will consider it mountainous in its outrageous violation of law and sentiment.

His campaign managers have called it "a ministerial joke," and the advertisers which have been subsidized by his advertising contracts have joined in the cry. The bootlegger, caught with the goods on his black mission of peddling misery and crime, would doubtless be glad to excuse himself in the same way, but the convictions of honest men everywhere damn him as guilty of a serious assault on the rules of the social order. Will the people of Missouri, honest, law abiding and God fearing as they are, care to endorse the enforcement of the liquor laws, or any laws, of this State to the hands of one who thus conspires to violate the same laws in other states and at home?

This is no time for the people to permit trifling with a serious problem of reform. If Fred D. Gardner has not the grace to withdraw from the race, we shall confidently trust the honest and upright electorate of this great State to play the manly part.

Our City Water.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I observe that the discovery(?) has been made that the water furnished by this city kills gold fish. I wonder that this has not been ascertained before, as I am satisfied from my rather limited study of conditions and my practice here, that the water furnished for drinking purposes here will kill not only gold fish, but many other forms of animal life and some forms of vegetable life, besides being very detrimental to human health. I observed from the first the pronounced prevalence of diseases of the secretive glands, goiter, catarrhal trouble, etc., and the many ailments more or less dangerous which follow in their wake. I have also experienced the disappointment of having various ferns die for me from watering them with the city drinking water and have heard a number of other persons complain of the same trouble. If it is true, as I understand, that there is used in the settling of the drinking water in this city, a mixture of alum, lime, iron and some copperas, I think it is not necessary to seek any further for the cause of these troubles. In my opinion, it is little short of criminal to feed the people such stuff for drinking purposes.

The kind of preparedness that this city needs is the same kind that the country needs, i. e., a healthy, prosperous and happy common people. Let us begin by making them healthy.

WM. FARNSWORTH, M. D.

Harden's Defense of Wilson.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Our President said recently: "Here is the world humanity has made: are you ready to take full citizenship in it?" Far across the seas, amidst a raging inferno—a maelstrom of passion, hate and fear—a man has responded. Against an overwhelming public sentiment he has fearlessly and courageously upheld the fundamental principles of right as interpreted by another man—a man, as he has rightly termed him, "of high moral ideals." He has had the strength and courage to uphold his convictions. He has appealed to reason; he has viewed the situation calmly, without fear or prejudice, and has rendered his decision to mankind—at the risk of incurring the displeasure of his Emperor and the wrath of his countrymen.

What a deep source of gratification it must be to us Americans to see a man of foreign birth mercilessly score the political malcontents and malignant traducers who would trample our chief executive in the dust of disrepute. What pride must be ours to know that his heart beats with ours in a warm tribute to our nation's chief! Can the stanchest advocates of partisanship, the most vigorous assailants of the man who has striven against overwhelming odds—odds more manifold than the surface might indicate—to maintain the peace and honor of a nation, read this noble German's views without feeling the pang of a stifled conscience?

We do not think so. What deep joy the President must feel at the whole-hearted tribute this noble Teuton has bestowed upon him!

EUGENE F. HAYMANN.

NATIONAL GUARD INEFFICIENCY.

Conditions in the national guard forces of Texas and New Mexico, which have been called to service on the Mexican border offer a striking object lesson on the subject of military preparedness.

One hundred and sixteen enlisted men of the Texas National Guard have refused to obey the call for service. They face courtmartial, but a majority of the court will be composed of militiamen and the probability of severe discipline is small.

Many of the militiamen who responded to the call are physically unfit for service. While the standard adopted by Texas is the same as the standard for the Federal army, the examinations are easy and the regulations lax. Undoubtedly many of the men will prove to be only half trained under the fast and loose methods of state control.

In the New Mexico contingent the excuse offered for relieving three companies from service is that 25 per cent of the men cannot speak English.

The national guard ought to be maintained for State and Federal reserve purposes; it ought to be strengthened and raised to a high state of efficiency, but experience has proved that it is not a dependable force for use in national emergencies. With rare exceptions it is never ready for actual service.

Division of control between State and Federal authorities is fatal to high standards of efficiency and to discipline. The forces upon which the nation must depend for defense should be under national control at every point. They should be trained and equipped for emergency service and subject wholly to Federal discipline.

New York is trying an interesting law, providing for compulsory militia training and service, which sets an example to the other states and the Federal Government. Able-bodied citizens between 18 and 45 are to be registered for enlistment. Youths from 16 to 19 must have at least three hours a week of military training. Militia service is obligatory for completing the State's quota of men for the national guard.

Obligatory military training is not new in American experience. In the early days of the Republic citizens were required to muster and drill. The requirements were slight for the demands of modern war, but the principle of obligation to serve the country was recognized.

This principle ought to be recognized now. Every able-bodied citizen should be prepared to serve his country and obliged to serve it when it is threatened by a foreign foe.

The zinc product now leads copper in value. A big boost for Missouri.

BIG INCOME TAX INCREASE.

Returns from the income tax this year indicate that the total revenue from this source will reach $120,000,000, as compared with $85,000,000 last year. This total, which is to be attributed to augmented property rather than to greater efficiency in collecting the tax, is still $280,000,000 below that minimum of $400,000,000 which Basel M. Manly, late attaché of the Industrial Relations Commission, says it should yield.

But an increase of $35,000,000, or 40 per cent, will do its part toward lessening Treasury stringency due to preparedness plans, and a 40 per cent boost in the total every year would bring it to Mr. Manly's figures soon after the close of Mr. Wilson's second term.

WASH UP THE ELEPHANT.

The clean-up campaign must include the elephant. Municipal ownership of an elephant involves the duty of washing it, and our elephant is a sight. Jim has so much soil on her back that she could plant flowers in it and use her for a perambulating garden. When she scratches her hind quarters against a tree the effect is like a sandstorm blowing from the San Anton pass. Jim is a fertile subject and we could write a volume on her unwashed state.

Not only for the sake of our Democratic convention visitors, but out of respect for the Republican party, whose symbol she is, we ought to clean up Jim. Furthermore the public and the little children who paid for her have never had a good look at her, so deeply ingrained she is beneath the soil of centuries. Let's turn the hose on her for a couple of days and see what she really looks like.

Waterloo, Liisoyang, Borodino, the Wilderness, are no longer worth mentioning. The greatest battle, in the greatest war, is Verdun.

THE CAVALRY DASH TO THE TIGRIS.

Whatever the route by which they passed and whatever the adventures they encountered, the mounted force of Russians which penetrated from Persia to the so-called "relieving" British army on the Tigris were the first to renew in this conflict the cavalry traditions of former wars.

The capable Stuart galloped rings around the entire Federal Army of the Potomac in 1862. Buford's small mounted detachment, holding back attack until help came, determined that the high tide battle of the Confederacy should be fought at Gettysburg. Stoneman's two daring cavalry raids from Tennessee into southwestern Virginia inflicted severe blows on the enemy and shook his confidence. Sheridan's several long-distance expeditions, particularly the one toward Richmond from the West in the closing weeks of the Civil War, are textbook illustrations of the usefulness of cavalry under former conditions of warfare.

Perhaps the exploit in our war which most nearly resembles that of the gallant Russians was the exploit of an intrepid cavalry command that started in the border states of the West and, fighting and dodging enemy detachments and exposed hourly to danger, made its way through hundreds of miles of hostile territory until successful in joining itself to friendly forces established on the lower Mississippi after the capture of New Orleans.

Perhaps this wild ride from Persia to the middle reaches of the Tigris is not the only brilliant contribution made by cavalry to late events in Asia. But the main fighting ground in Europe has been sadly deficient in dashing cavalry opportunities. The Centaur is hopelessly handicapped in trenches and dugouts. So large a mark as a mounted man is peculiarly vulnerable before a machine gun raining from 500 to 1000 missiles a minute.

The revelation that small American flags are made only in Germany is something of a jolt for Uncle Sam.

SUPPRESSING FREE SPEECH.

The folly of suppressing free speech on account of a difference of opinion is well illustrated in the case of Mrs. Margaret Sanger, whose address on birth control was shut out of the Victoria theater. It is a phase of intolerance which always reacts on the persecutor.

The effort to suppress Mrs. Sanger has advertised her propaganda, piqued public curiosity, aroused popular interest and gained support from many who otherwise might be indifferent to her propaganda. If Mrs. Sanger were locked out of every theater and hall in town her propaganda would spread underground where the opponents would be unable to meet and combat it.

If she violates law the law will deal with her. If she teaches error her teaching will fail. If she teaches truth which appeals to the heart and consciences of men, suppressive measures are vain. We commend to her opponents the wise sayings of Jefferson: "Error of opinion may be tolerated when reason is left free to combat it." Truth is the proper and sufficient antagonist to "error."

The odious English name of cricket has been changed in Germany to Dreistaebeleinrichtung. This is not simplified spelling. It is patriotism.

"ANTQUATED."

Mr. Ford's adjective, "antiquated," as applied to Mr. Roosevelt, has a flavor about it that will be recognized as curiously appropriate. The Colonel during his entire political career has given evidence of the tremendous impression Mr. Hanna and the Hanna political methods made on him. Ingenuous and quaint at this time in the twentieth century appears his implicit confidence in the power of organization and particularly huge campaign funds, his dependence on strong-arm technique, his incessant resort to speakeasiums and buncombe of decidedly old-fashioned quality.

His distinctive campaign tactics are passing—belong to an out-of-date regime. Advance is swift at this time. The country has progressed beyond Rooseveltism.

The aspiring statesmen who are considering their chances in the national conventions cannot all have first place. They should remember that five vice presidents have become President.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION CONFERENCE.

With the organization of a Missouri Workmen's Compensation Conference, as reported in Sunday's Post-Dispatch, a good beginning was made in the necessary work for the passage of a compensation law at the session of the State Legislature which meets January next. A great deal of work will have to be done, in the way of educating the parties concerned and bringing them into agreement. The St. Louis Bar Association, which is interested in the passage of a good law, is collecting and printing a number of circulars, giving information as to the passage and working of compensation laws in other states. These can be had on application to the association.

It is hardly to be expected that much intelligent opposition will be met with in the passage of a law carefully constructed and fair to employers and employees. Since the bill introduced in 1913 was defeated, much progress has been made in the improvement of compensation laws, and such laws have generally given satisfaction.

Employers who have hitherto been opposed to the principle of compensation will no doubt have noted the fact that, in the case of Mary Moentmann, such a law would have saved the employing company a good deal of money, both in the way of damages and lawyers' bills. It may be said that this was an exceptional case. But public interest and sentiment are now thoroughly aroused. A good compensation law, besides being fair to all concerned, will put an end to the mulcting of employers in heavy, punitive damages, which will probably come to be the rule with juries if Missouri employers stand pat against compensation laws.

High prices and defective goods will not bring trade to any country after the war—not even to the United States.

KNOWING WHOM TO KISS.

Coming out of church Sunday (according to our Tarrytown correspondent) Mr. John D. Rockefeller's little grandson came running up to him with outstretched arms, declaring, "Grandpa, I've got a kiss for you!" Whereupon Mr. Rockefeller stooped and received the salute and gave the youngster a nickel and patted him on the head, with the approving comment: "This boy will know how to take care of himself in this world."

It is a very important matter to the aspiring youth to know just whom to kiss. The difference between success and failure lies in kissing the right parties. Kissing the cheek of blindfolded Justice, maybe kissing a grizzled Judge, kissing a State Legislature here and there, kissing a political party, or both of them, kissing tariff revision committees, Congressmen, bosses—such kisses have been known to pay. We hope the young man's kisses will always prove genuine, and that he will never bestow a kiss for 50 pieces of silver.

Passing the Word.

From the Philadelphia Telegraph.
We may not believe one-half we hear, but we don't hesitate to tell it all.

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH
by Clark McAdams

SAVED.

IRISHMEN WANTED.
50 fighting Irishmen for national guard company; we have Germans, English, French, Hebrews in the guard, but few Irish. This is wrong. The Irish should do their share to defend this country. Apply to the "Irish company." Monday or Tuesday night, Company H, 230 S. Grand—Sunday Post-Dispatch.

THINGS looked dark in Mexico, With Germany seemed blue, And Captain Mac held earnest talk With his lieutenants two. And First Lieutenant Mac grew glum, And Mac the Second "Loot," While Captain Mac said, "Hell will break If once the Greasers' shoot."

"We have no army worth the name, The foe are millions strong And war 'tis hell, as Sherman said) Will be on us 'ere long. The three Macs pondered earnestly And then evolved a plan To save these old United States With a want ad, which ran: Send fifty fighting Irishmen To save the U. S. A., Send fifty fighting Irishmen P. D. Q.—right away. We'll have no fear of any foe Nor fear the battle brunt, If fifty Irish follow us When we go to the front."

Again peace reigns in Mexico, The Kaiser is our friend; And Uncle Sam sleeps peacefully, His worries at an end. Now war, his horrid front grown pale, To get away tries hard, Since fifty fighting Irishmen Enlisted in the Guard. OTTO SCHMIDT.

MORE SIGNS I HAVE NEVER SEEN.

On a church: "We have bats in our belfry." At the cemetery: "Dig up if you want us to dig down."

At the insurance office: "The man who can't afford life insurance can't afford to die." At the stable: "Keep out—hay fever." At the swimming pool: "If you are a plunger here is a bucket shop." At the pawnbroker's: "We attend to your business with interest." At the florist's: "It is better to spend your money for big red roses than for big red noses." —BO.

IN SIGNS.

Sign in a drug store:
Our Drinks Are Soda Licious.
It is pretty discouraging, after the way we have gotten after the sign painters, to have this one sent in:
Lanterns Shined—Stoves Repaired—Umbrellas repaired—Shoes Painted.

Let us hope that Mrs. Sanger will understand that this is not a foreign country, but one only doing a great many things entirely foreign to its ultimate intention.

WHY CHILDREN ARE HAPPY.

COMING to work this morning I saw a little country girl sitting on a sack of potatoes in her father's farm wagon. One look at her freckled face told me that she had never been to town before. It was on that dreary part of Laclede avenue just west of the Mason and Dixon line. The down-at-the-heel rooming houses were shabby enough and a Laclede avenue car is not exactly the eighth wonder of the world—but to that little girl St. Peter had opened wide the gates of Heaven and we were all equipped with shining wings. She hadn't been around long enough to see the unpaid bills in our coat pockets. We were successes in her eyes—and so we, in turn, peek into limousines without seeing the scarred souls just under the surface. —BO.

TO FELLOWSHIP.

FORGET, may prey on thought, yet never dare Face memory, with yours reflected there; Walled in by stragglers, blank as adamant—An edge of life, self-centered souls left bare Or hedged with thorns of more repelling cant, Like flowers burst to meet belated spring; Whence two horizons visioned more in one.

Responses which made the universe less far, Laid doubts of life, and what the end may bring; Esteem, wrought clear of sentiment's thin bar, Ranged all men kin, and man—the whole, a king; Give me enough like you to fill such plan, And theirs would lift my sphere to superman. —EDWIN M. CASE.

ALTER IDEM.

I think it best to elucidate as it is not always possible for even the most erudite of readers to make sure. This is a poem. G. D. J.

WHEN IN DISGRACE WITH FORTUNE.

When in disgrace with fortune and men's eyes I all alone beweep my outcast state, And trouble deaf heaven with my bootless cries, And look upon myself and curse my fate; Wishing me like to one more rich in hope, Featured like him, like him with friends possess, Desiring this man's art, and that man's scope, With what I most enjoy contented least; Yet in these thoughts myself almost despairing, Happily I think on Thee—and then my state, Like to the lark at break of day arising From sullen earth, sings hymns at heaven's gate; For thy sweet love remember'd such wealth brings That then I scorn to change my state with kings. —Shakespeare.

"The Republicans have set a task for themselves." "What is it?" "They want someone who will command the German vote without repelling the Roosevelt vote."

"Good-night!" Gov. Major has been mentioned for vice-president unfavorably in the Oregon primaries.

EARNST—To acquire a straight back: Constantly keep shoulders thrown back. Have exercises which put in play the muscles of stooping and erecting; tennis, rowing, etc.

BUDIE—When a garment has been scorched in the ironing, unless too deep, wash with soft soap and draw out the spot. If not quite gone, wet the place and rub laundry soap on it. Lay in the sun.

FACTORY BOYS—E. G. Lewis not dead. Be-la-ca-de-ra, accent Es and de. Maxwellton said he was not a student. Lion's whelp (not cub). Feony, pe-o-ny: accent first syllable. (Only one question should be mailed in. The gold in a new $5 coin costs $5.)

Yes, the Prince of Wales (afterwards King Edward) voted against the old English law prohibiting marriage with deceased wife's sister. Trinity Church Cemetery, in the City of New York, has been so preserved. Bellafontaine, Calvary and Valhalla churches are perpetual.

CORMAN—Dyer's district (Twelfth), all the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eleventh and Seventeenth wards, precincts 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15 of Ward 10 and precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 of Ward 12 as said wards are now constituted. Population 150,000.

STRANGER—Be very careful to whom you pay money for a position as a singer. Reputable booking agencies can be of much service in the matter. The least said is the soonest. The most satisfactory way would be to apply in person to managers in the field which you wish to enter, and to win an opportunity on your individual merits.

X. Y. Z.—Much of the trouble of the cause of war, but it is thought that some of them at least are due to a micro-organism, and that they are some extent contagious. This theory would conform to an experience of spreading them with the friction brush. They may or may not have anything to do with the diet and general health, but probably not. They are readily destroyed by electricity (electrolysis), or may be caused to disappear by touching slightly with a stick with some acid or caustic. Nitric acid, acetic acid or caustic potash may be used every few days, and cautiously.

F. C. E.—Home citrate of magnesia: Drop 25 drops lemon oil on 4 oz. carbonate magnesia; scrape it and place together with 3 oz. citric acid and 8 parts water, in a wide-mouthed bottle. In a few hours the solution will be effective. Add the sugar and dissolve by frequent agitation. Filter through paper and divide the liquid into 12 suitable bottles. Lastly these bottles must be nearly filled with filtered water and to each of them is added, immediately before corking, 40 grains chemically pure bicarbonate of soda. The bottles must be kept in a room standing for several days, when a heavy white precipitate will form. This is a citro-carbonate of magnesia, which is insoluble, weakens the solution and causes it to be worthless.

POETRY—The substitution is permissible if you can "get away" with it. Nobody yet has been able to derive a strictly accurate system for English verse. Take the line, "Cried, 'Give me reason' and he thus addressed" and the feet are all iambic. Read the "and" short, and you have a pyrrhic foot in the middle of the line. This simple example shows the futility of trying to write English poetry by a foot rule. A knowledge of formal prosody is a good thing to have concealed about you, but the best way to do it is to throw them away and be guided only by your sense of what is right and wrong. 'Tis probably right, and, anyway, it is the thing you say more than the way you say it which makes it true poetry.

The Serpent's Voice

Story of a girl, who, by listening to the soft palaver of one man; temporarily banishes the one she really was in love with.

By Frances Elizabeth Lanyon.

SHE who would be always dainty was all bedraggled. She who was used to shelter, warmth and comfort was alone, darkness and a howling storm all about her. She who at her elegant home had but to nod to bring a score of anxious servants to her was all solitary.

"Oh, this is dreadful!" gasped Helena Waltham as she staggered against a tree, fairly blown there by the fierce wind and she clung to a vine encircling it and shuddered.

"Why did I do it, why did I venture when I knew the risk?" she wailed and then, her eyes flashing, her courage blazing out, she said with set lips: "I hate him!"

She hated him, her fiancé, Gerald Morse, because she had found him out. She hated him because he had come into her life at its sweetest period of hope and happiness as an ideal only to be rudely shattered. She hated him—and she covered her eyes with her hands and sobbed bitterly at the thought—because he had inspired her to drive from her side a true good man.

"Oh, the sting of it—oh, the mean, cruel act!" she wailed and sank to the ground not caring much what became of her.

Rodney Preston! His grave face, full of character and nobleness, hovered now within her anguished mental vision. Three months ago they had been friends and he, a poor but promising young lawyer, had been her proud of his company, for he was a favorite with everybody. When her father had introduced Gerald Morse there was no right on the part of Preston to resent it. What claim had he upon Helena? But when one day Morse had almost ordered her to snub Preston, dazzled by the brilliancy of this new star, nettled because Preston had so seemingly accepted her action indifferently, Helena was influenced to award him a cold stare only. "I can make it up later," she whispered anxiously to herself when she mourned for the ignoble act, but she had cut Rodney Preston to the quick.

Helena Defies Morse.

HE did not cross her path again. She learned that he had left the town. Then had come her punishment to learn the real sordid selfishness of Gerald Morse. Disgust had come for this frivolous fortune hunter. And now—hated, she could not help it! It was just at dusk and she had endured the company of Morse in a stroll along the river, morose, unsociable, unhappy. In her restless capriciousness she had declared for a row on the river. Gerald Morse had demurred. He had done more—he had insisted that she abandon her design.

"A storm is coming up," he said. "We will pass up the risk of a big blow on the treacherous Vermilion."

"Not I!" declared Helena with resolute lips and disdainful eyes, and she deliberately proceeded to the light skiff moored near by.

"My word!" uttered the daunted Morse as she set adrift with a contemptuous toss of her head.

"You'll have a master, I can tell you, when you marry me!" he shouted after her.

"When I do!" retorted Helena hotly, and she wrenched the engagement ring from her finger and scornfully cast it into the water.

The blackness of dusk and storm overtook her where a stream was widest. Then there was chaos. She drifted, the oars were wrenched from her grasp. The frail bark struck a rock and collapsed like a cockle shell and she crept to shore drenched and blinded.

Soon Helena knew the spot where she had landed—Barren Island, just below the town where the river broadened out to the dimensions of a lake. She shuddered as she recalled its loneliness. Many a time she had passed its uninviting length. It was rarely visited by the townspeople. Helena crouched down beside the tree. Even the pelting rain reached her there. She moved over.

The Folly of Taking Digestive Pills

A Warning to Dyspeptics.

The habit of taking digestive pills after meals makes chronic dyspepsia of many thousands of men and women because artificial digesta, drugs and medicines have practically no influence upon the excessively acid condition of the stomach contents which is the cause of most forms of indigestion and dyspepsia.

The after-dinner pill merely lessens the sensitiveness of the stomach nerves and thus gives a false sense of freedom from pain. If those who are subject to indigestion, gas, flatulence, belching, would eat about an ounce of pure, unadorned mastic from their drugist and take a teaspoonful in a little water after meals there would be no further necessity for drugs or medicine because mastic instantly neutralizes stomach acidity, stops fermentation and thus insures normal, painless digestion by enabling the stomach to do its work without hindrance.—ADV.

Personnel of U. S. Navy.

It is learned from government statistics that the United States Army constitutes the most thoroughly American body of men in the world. Of the 62,881 men aboard American warships or serving on shore, 47,864 were born within the continental limits of the United States, and of the remainder 1900 were born in the overseas possessions of this country.

The intense cannonading in the West has driven huge numbers of game over into Switzerland, to Luxemburg and to parts of France, over which the war has passed.

Gowning the June Bridemaid

While She Must Follow the Bride's Wishes in General in Costumes, the Suggestion Here Is Timely—Variations in Colors That Add to Beauty of Ceremony.

THE gowning of the bride-maid, though not arranged in detail by the bride, depends upon her wishes. In this way the frocks are in accordance with the bride's taste and elegance, though always dainty and airy. If the bridegroom should carry out some "period" style, such as early Italian, Moynage or Watteau—which is the liberty accorded this important creation—the bride-maid's frocks should suggest the same influence. If the wedding gown is simple in design, with no real lace or other show of elegance, the bride-maid's frocks should also be simple. A bride usually has some color scheme she wishes to carry out, and the bride-maid's frocks are important factors. While the design of them is usually the same, their color is often varied. If there are six bride-maids, each one may be dressed in a different hue, or two by two in different colors, or in different shades of one color.

This idea of a bit of variation introduced in the bridal procession is especially good for the wedding in a small town, where the bride-maids who travel in the same set will naturally desire to wear their frocks after their initial appearance to the same social functions. And if a bride is particularly thoughtful for her girl friends she will allow them a little variation in the design of their frocks, which is quite possible without detrimental effects to the ensemble, when all of them are of the same color or shades of one color.

THE frock here shown is adaptable to numerous fabrics, either chiffon, silk, organza, net or silk mull. An effective pattern of fine lace rippling up and down the full plain skirt, in two deep points on each side, gives a delightfully dainty outline to the silhouette. If the frock should be of palest orchid chiffon, cream lace would decorate it prettily, in combination with pale blue tulle or satin as a band on the skirt and as a wide sash. This latter mentioned is draped diagonally to the right hip to tie in one enormous loop and end. The full but snugly confined bodice uses a lace ruffle to accentuate its quaint drop-shoulder line, and another ruffle below it over the arm to take the place of a sleeve. A plain yoke of chiffon finished in picot edge at the neck completes the bodice. The hat would be pretty of lavender chiffon with a black velvet crown to form a background for the yellow wheat, forget-me-nots and rosebuds which surround it. Instead of the usual bouquet of flowers, this bride-maid carries on her arm a wreath. It corresponds prettily with the garland of flowers which the bride may adopt instead of a bouquet.

Rhuard Easy to Can.

If you never have tried canning rhubarb without heating it do not let this season go by before you make the experiment. It is easy to do, not expensive and is most satisfactory in results.

Have your jars ready before you wish to use them. See that they are clean and that the jars, covers and rubbers are sterile, i. e., that they have been boiled and then set aside in the water in which they have been boiled.

which they have been boiled. Wash the rhubarb well and cut off any bad parts. Do not pare if it is at all tender. Cut in one-inch pieces, or about that size, and pack each jar as full and tight as possible. Then hold it under the cold water faucet until every bit of air has been expelled and the water is running over the top of the jar. Keep as full of rhubarb as possible, put on rubber, cover and tighten.

It is ready to set away for winter use, and will be found to taste just as good as the fresh rhubarb.

King Hans and Queen Ada

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

ONCE upon a time a little boy sat on a stump weeping, for he had had nothing to eat. He was an orphan and had been living for a year with an old woman, who obliged him to go early every morning to the field and tend the sheep.

Presently down the road galloped Princess Ada, the only daughter of the old King.

"Save me! Save me!" screamed Ada, as she caught sight of the boy.

Hans leaped to his feet and stopped the horse.

"My pony was scared by the Great

Unicorn," said Ada, when she had recovered her breath. "It came suddenly out of the bushes and jumped toward us."

Hans helped the little Princess back to the castle, then ran away without waiting to be thanked by the King.

A few months later he was eating his bread by a spring, when a Brownie with whom he was great friends told him that the King was in a terrible trouble on account of the Unicorn.

"The King says he will give half of his kingdom and the hand of the Princess Ada to the one who will destroy the monster," concluded the Brownie, as he took out his walking stick and stuck it in the soft mud.

That gave Hans an idea; he knew how he could get the Unicorn and get it alive for the King's son.

"The beast has a long horn in the middle of his forehead," he laughed to himself. "I can make him chase me till I get to that soft bark tree down the road; then if I jump behind it the tree will stick his horn right into the tree and I can put a rope around his feet."

Just then he heard a loud voice and knew at once that the Unicorn was coming. After running half a mile he let the Unicorn get very close at his heels. Just then he saw he was right by the soft bark tree, and sprang behind it. The Unicorn ran slap bang into the tree, and the long horn stuck fast. The beast could not move his head at all.

So Hans tied up all of its legs and ran to the castle to call the soldiers, who sawed off the horn, then led it into the great garden of the King's son.

They also made Hans accompany them back.

In came the King with a big golden crown on his gray curls, and behind him was pretty little Ada.

"Oh, papa!" exclaimed Ada; "that is the boy who saved me when my pony ran away; he has also caught the unicorn."

"My," said the King; "he is just the kind of a son-in-law I want. I don't want much fuss about the wedding, so hurry up and get married quietly and don't disturb my afternoon nap. From today I leave the charge of the kingdom to you and Hans."

So the sleepy old King went back to playing checkers and napping, while King Hans and Queen Ada ruled the land happily for a long, long time.

The Persistent Myth of Mocha Coffee

THE National Geographic Society of Washington, in a bulletin issued on one of the important places mentioned in the news of the day, relates the origin of a popular fallacy. The bulletin says:

"When the news reached America that the eastern area of the world war had embraced Arabia, concern was felt at the breakfast table in thousands of American homes. It was believed that Mocha, like many other towns in the 'desert of the sea' peninsula, would be affected."

"Would this turn of events curtail America's supply of 'unrivaled Mocha and Java,' with its wonderful bouquet and its delightful aroma? The question was on many lips, prompted by epicurean palates."

"This appetite alarm will be dissipated when coffee drinkers realize that 'Mocha and Java' is merely a name and that the scent of the berry which clings to the cup will be as pleasing when called by its right name—Brazilian, Porto Rican, Mexican, Hawaiian, Central or South American coffee. As a matter of statistics, all the coffee imported into the United States last year from the far East, including the famed 'centers' of the industry, Mocha and Java, amounted to less than one-third of one per cent of the total billion pounds that went into the American percolator."

"Coffee drinkers will not begrudge Mocha her fame, however, for that is all that remains to her of a once flourishing trade, a trade which popularized the beverage throughout the world."

"Tradition tells us that the uses of coffee were discovered in Abyssinia about the time that Columbus was cogitating upon his scheme to reach the Indies and the tea countries by sailing west across the Atlantic. Correlative with this tradition are many legends about the manner of its discovery; one of the most picturesque being that a flock of sheep, after browsing on the indigenous coffee shrub became unusually frisky, as a result of the stimulant, and that this excitement was followed by sleepless nights."

"The Mohammedans began to use coffee as an anti-soporific during their long religious vigils, a practice frowned upon by orthodox Mussulmans, who argued that it savored of a form of intoxication."

Sandman story of the boy who captured the unicorn, and married the beautiful princess.

Massive Vernis Martin Bed Outfit

$1.00 Cash $1.00 Monthly 2½-Inch Posts, 1½-Inch Fillers, 4½-Inch Caps $16.50

A Wonderful Value Indeed

We consider this one of the most attractive values we ever offered in this line—this Bed is in beautiful Vernis Martin gold finish which closely resembles solid brass, and is more durable than most brass beds as it will not tarnish or lose its exquisite finish—it is extra large and massive—and in a design that will please the most particular taste.

Oxidized Finish if Preferred

We also show this identical Bed in beautiful oxidized finish if preferred—and with each of these Beds we include a well-made Mattress and all-iron Spring, with woven wire top—the entire outfit at actually less than you ordinarily would pay for the bed alone—an offering that is well worth your prompt attention.

Note the Massive Proportions

This Bed has 2½-in. posts—1 1-16-in. fillers and extra large 4½-in. caps—proportions that have seldom, if ever, been offered in a bed at anything like the price we name—the construction throughout is the very best and can be relied upon to give years of thorough service and satisfaction.

Note the Attractive Terms

All we ask is $1.00 cash—and this handsome Bed in Vernis Martin gold finish—or rich oxidized finish—complete with Spring and Mattress—will be delivered to your home at once—and you can pay the balance of the small purchase price on easy terms of only $1.00 a month—an unusual inducement we offer you to open an account with us this week.

Steamboat Williams Hit a Snag and Was Wrecked by His Own Wrecking Crew

JOES WILL SEND PHILIPMAN AGAINST NEW YORK TODAY

Big Carl Will Try to Keep Up the Good Work Started by Plank and Groom.

SISLER BEGINS TO HIT

Michigan Marvel Helps to Subdue Yanks in First Game With Three Singles.

NEW YORK, May 23.—"All I can say is that we've started," said Fielder Jones, manager and director of the Browns' journey through the slough of Despond, after yesterday's game which was won from the Yanks, 9-5. Which proves beyond question that St. Louis can still turn out an occasional optimist of high caliber, even if the race tracks have been closed up.

Race tracks are the greatest breeders of optimists science has ever devised. Some people think baseball is a rival of the sport of kings in this regard, but they are all wrong. Followers of the game back their optimism with money, where the baseball votaries take it out in talk and throw in pop bottles at umpires. But, anyhow, whether Mr. Jones is right or wrong, it is entirely probable that the Browns will pitch today and will in all probability be opposed by McGraw. Judging from yesterday's game, there is no logical reason why the Browns should not make it in a row. "Wild" Donovan seemed to empty his whole box of tricks yesterday, but no time could they lost it in the third inning.

Sisler Has Big Day.

Sisler was quite a factor in the game from a St. Louis standpoint with three hits out of five times up. He scored one of the Browns' nine runs and brought in another. In the sixth he saved what might have developed into an awkward situation by a smart catch. Two runs had been scored and a man was on first as a result of an error by Austin, and the team seemed to be very shaky all the way through. McGraw was up and sent leading bouncer to Ernie Johnson. Johnson got it and tossed it to Pratt in time to force out Gilhooly at second, and Pratt made a wild leap and shot it toward Sisler.

It was a matter of no one but an expert hurler would have had a chance to get it, but Sisler fixed his eyes on the strike and made a wild leap and brought it down. He didn't get McGraw, but he got the ball and that fact undoubtedly helped a lot in tethering the goats of the whole bunch, who were just about ready to break bounds and scatter in all directions. McGraw helped a lot, too. His short catch of Pipp's line drive in the seventh was a scream, his throw to the plate on McGraw's hit, his catch of the second holding Fisher on third was a poem and his four-base drive past Lee Magee in the eighth was a pippin. Jimmie Austin has at least a carnation coming to him for his hit in the sixth. It came at the psychological moment and brought in two runs, which helped a lot.

Waivers Asked on Crandall.

Manager Jones announced yesterday that he had asked for waivers on Otto Crandall, the veteran right-hander. Last year Crandall was one of the most dependable pitchers for the Browns, but this year he has been slow turning into form, and has not started a game in fact, he has been used as a pinch-hitter for only two times. As a pinch-hitter he also has failed to hit.

Cliff Markie, the young right-hander obtained by the Yanks from the Texas League, and who has proven one of the best bats for Donovan this spring, twirled the ninth inning for the Browns. The game was all but annihilated. The Browns during his short stay, got for two runs, but McGraw's hit in the eighth, and the home run King came on Pipp's one spot.

The Tanks got after the veteran, Eddie Plank, in the first round. After two were out, Gedden coasted a pass. Baker doubled McGraw, and the second-sacker and the home run King came on Pipp's one spot.

Look Who's Here!

Myers' hurling, with that of Joe Bush and the Cuban pitcher, out so greatly that the Browns are now in a position to win. The Browns' charges came right back with a pair, being helped by McGraw's hit in the eighth, and the home run King came on Pipp's one spot.

PENNY ANTE: Trying to Liven Up the Game

By Jean Knott

PHILS CLIMB BY WINNING NINE OF LAST TEN GAMES

Moran's Club Hits Stride After Losing First Two Battles to Cardinals.

Although the Phillies have no winning streak of the proportions of the one owned by the Giants, Pat Moran's team has won nine of its last ten games. Since May 12, when the Phils downed the Cards, 5-4, Moran's outfit has contested 10 times and has been returned to the winning side in nine of them. The lone defeat for the team came on May 19, when Al Mauer pitched the Pirates to a 4-0 victory.

Twirlers for the Phils have hurled two shutouts during the stretch, and the team has won both. He blanked Cincinnati, 5-0, May 12, and his next game resulted in a 3-0 shutout for Philadelphia on May 18. The Phils record:

Score.	Win.	Loss.
May 12—Cincinnati.....	5-0	0-0
May 13—Cincinnati.....	5-0	0-0
May 14—Cincinnati.....	5-0	0-0
May 15—Cincinnati.....	5-0	0-0
May 16—Cincinnati.....	5-0	0-0
May 17—Cincinnati.....	5-0	0-0
May 18—Pittsburgh.....	5-0	0-0
May 19—Pittsburgh.....	5-0	0-0
May 20—Pittsburgh.....	5-0	0-0
May 21—Cincinnati.....	5-0	0-0
May 22—Chicago.....	5-0	0-0

Griffen Regain Lead.

When the Nationals of Washington took the first place yesterday by beating the White Sox, 2-0, with Harry Harper, the young southpaw, on the hill, they went into the game with a lead of one game. The Indians, who were in second place, were also in a position to win.

Myers' hurling, with that of Joe Bush and the Cuban pitcher, out so greatly that the Browns are now in a position to win. The Browns' charges came right back with a pair, being helped by McGraw's hit in the eighth, and the home run King came on Pipp's one spot.

The Jarr Family

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By Roy L. McCordell.

Little Emma Jarr Is to Be Queen of the School Party in the Park.

WILLIE JARR came bursting in to the Jarr flat at noon and cried, "They are setting up a party at school and we are going to the park, maw!"

"And a little girl in our class what's got lovely golden hair is to be Queen!" cried the little Jarr girl, following her brother in.

"And Johnny Rangle is to be the King. Huh! I wouldn't be King and have to walk with a girl!" cried the boy.

"It's to be on Saturday," said the little girl, "and I want my new white dress and my pink sash, and the teacher is going to have ice cream and cake and lemonade!"

"Say, maw, couldn't I take my air gun along?"

"I'll shoot the squirrels as fast as they come up! Bing!" cried Master Willie Jarr, and squinting one eye, he aimed at an imaginary squirrel with supposedly deadly results. Whereat the little girl commenced to cry and began slapping her brother for killing the squirrels.

"Behave yourself, Emma!" cried Mrs. Jarr. "I never saw such a temper, and I know whom you get it from, too! Willie wouldn't shoot the squirrels. I'm not going to let him take his air gun along to shoot out people's eyes, and if I did they wouldn't let him take it into the park!"

"Then I don't want to go to the old party," said the boy.

"I don't care if Willie wants to go to the party or not," said the little girl; "I want to go and the teacher wants me to go!"

"I am not in favor of such things," said Mrs. Jarr. "How can the teachers look after so many children in the park where all those automobiles are? Besides, they will be busy looking after their favorites whom they make Queens of, while nicer children and prettier children are passed over."

"They wanted me to be Queen, but I wanted my little friend, who has beautiful golden hair, to be Queen," said Emma Jarr.

"You're just like your father—all ways doing things for other people!" said Mrs. Jarr. "And much thanks you'll get in this world!"

"Can go, can't I?" asked little Emma Jarr.

"Certainly not!" said Mrs. Jarr. "This thing of sending children to the park in this, when summer dresses when it's likely to rain or be chilly and give them their death of cold, I cannot agree to!"

Hearing this decree of fate, the little girl began bitterly to cry.

"I wouldn't cry for an old party," said the little boy. "Would I, maw?"

"And you behave yourself!" said Mrs. Jarr, turning to her young hopeful.

"But I'm glad you do not hate to teach-er's favorites!"

Just then the telephone bell rang. It was little Emma's teacher, who asked Mrs. Jarr if she would come to the park as one of the chaperons for the children's party. "For I suppose you know," added the teacher over the telephone, "we have all decided that your sweet little girl is to be Queen!"

"I didn't know that," said Mrs. Jarr, "but I was arranging for her to go. You may be sure I will be pleased to go with you and help watch the children; so sweet of you to call, too!"

When Mr. Jarr came home Mrs. Jarr was singing blithely over the task of setting out a founce in the little girl's best last summer's white frock, while a selection of pink sashes for a good little girl lay upon the table.

SCENE: A cozy parlor with dim-burning lamp. Two persons sitting very close together on a couch—a man and a maid, of course.

Suddenly the youth's ardor took a painful form. He burst into verse, sighing:

"You are gladness, you are sunshine. You are happiness, I trow; You are all to me, my darling, That is lovely here below."

Not to be outdone, the fair damsel whispered:

"You are splendor, you are glory. You are handsome, you are true; All there is this side of heaven I behold, my love, in you!"

Raptures! But suddenly a gruff voice broke in on their bliss, as father said sternly from the doorway:

"I am lightning, I am thunder. I'm a roaring cataract; I am earthquakes and volcanoes. And I'll demonstrate the fact!"

And he proceeded to do so.

The World Scorch.
SIR IAN HAMILTON, the chief of the Dardanelles expedition, had just got back to London to have his work investigated, when I met him at a luncheon at Claridge's," said a Chicago millionaire.

"The talk turned, naturally, on the slowness with which the Dardanelles operations had dragged on, and Sir Ian said, with some asperity, that to try to scorch to Constantinople would be as absurd as the millionaire's scorch round the globe."

"He said a millionaire, speeding along in his 30-horsepower torpedo, said to his chauffeur:

"'London, sir,' the chauffeur answered, slowing up.

"'Ah, cut out the details,' said the millionaire. 'I mean what continent?'—London Times.

These Are the Signs of Good Health—Has Your Baby All of Them?

Has he a good appetite—a clear pink skin—bright, wide-open eyes—alert, springy muscles—a contented little face? Does he gain each week in weight—does he sleep quietly with eyes and mouth tightly closed?

If he hasn't one and all of these things—look out. Something is wrong with him. And nine times in ten that something is his food. Your baby can't grow rosy and strong if he doesn't have the right food. Nurse your baby, if you can. If you can't, wean him on

Nestlé's Food

(A Complete Food—Not a Milk Modifier)

Don't give him raw cow's milk. Cow's milk needs a calf's four stomachs to digest it. "Cow's milk, as ordinarily marketed is unfit for human consumption," says the U. S. Government.

But there is something in cow's milk that is good for your baby, if that something is modified and purified so that it is as light, as satisfying and as pure as mother's milk itself. That is what is done for you in Nestlé's Food.

It comes to you reduced to a powder—in an air-tight can. You add only water—boil one minute—and it is ready with just the right amount of fats, proteins, and carbohydrates that will make a healthy baby.
